Interception of Airline Planes Part of Air Defense Says RCAF

TCA PILOTS PROTEST RCN FLYING AT PAT BAY

TCA pilots flying into Patricia Bay airport have protested navy torpedo aircraft test flying in the Brentwood area. It was learned today.

It is understood they have made representation to the company's chief pilot at Montreal, pointing out the Navy's torpedo test range off the west end of the main runway of the airport could be hazardous.

The Navy, for several months, has been testing new types of torpedoes launched from low-flying aircraft.

The commercial pilots feel the tests should be conducted in a sea area far apart from the airport.

They protest the fact the Navy pilots are flying low near the western approach to the main runway, concentrating on their "bomb runs" while other aircraft might be in the vicinity.

Navy Flier Scoffs Claim Avengers Buzzed Vancouver

Complaints from Vancouver that a navy squadron of Avengers torpedo-carrier aircraft flew "dangerously low" over the city Wednesday were denied today by the commander of the flight.

Lieut. Cmdr. Michael Page, who brought the squadron here from Dartmouth, N.S., last week, for exercises with ships of the Pacific Command, said the altitude of the flight was perfectly safe at all times.

The squadron, which flew over Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Mission in a Queen's Birthday "fly past," flew today over upland towns and Powell River on the mainland in similar shows of tight formation flying.

It is the first time a unit of the Fleet Air Arm has been seen on this coast.

Lieut. Cmdr. Page said the squadron flew at regulation 2,000 feet altitude during most of the Wednesday shows.

NEVER DANGEROUS

At one time over Vancouver the 10 single-engine heavy-duty torpedo carriers swooped to 1,500 feet because of clouds, but there was no danger, the squadron CO said.

He said that in the event of engine trouble on any one of the aircraft, "ditching" or landing could have been carried out and the people of Vancouver had nothing to worry about.

According to reports from the mainland, Sea Island airport control was "deluged" with calls from residents who thought the aircraft were too close to their roof-tops.

JUDGE FINES PROVINCE $2,500

VANCOUVER (UP)—Mr. Justice J. V. Clynne today fined the Vancouver Daily Province $2,500 and columnist Eric Nicol $250 in a contempt of court action arising out of a story the newspaper carried on the conviction and sentencing of murderer William Gash.

Justice Clynne's decision was handed down today after he had reserved judgment following the original hearing April 2.

The story, for which the newspaper later published a front page apology, depicted capital punishment and graphically described what it said was the agony of hanging.

B.C. TEACHERS WANT OLD REPORTS BACK

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia teachers' convention here has recommended a return to the old fashioned letter system of marking report cards.

Elementary school report cards in use now were described as very often "unintelligible" by D. L. Pritchard, chairman of the report committee.

The current system in the lower grades marks a student according to his own ability rather than his position in the class.

The meeting decided that grades 1 to 6 should have a report card system graded from A to E, and grades 7 to 12 should use a seven-point alphabetical scale.

WITH CYANIDE BULLETS

Hatchetmen Tell Red Murder Plot

Conscience-Stricken Secret Police Surrender to Americans in Berlin

BONN (Reuters)—A Soviet secret police captain with orders to assassinate an anti-Communist Russian in West Germany with poison bullets has surrendered to the West, American authorities announced today.

He gave American security officers details about changes in the Soviet secret police MVD and Russia after the death of Stalin and the execution last year of Lavrenti Beria, former minister of the interior. His evidence also included details of the assassination of Leon Trotsky in Mexico.

The U.S. high commission produced MVD Capt. Nikolai E. Khoklov at an elaborate press conference. Two East Germans, Hans Kudowicz and Kurt Weber, who were also assigned to the assassination mission, were with him.

Khoklov said the MVD team sent to Frankfurt to assassinate an anti-Communist Russian named Okolovitch had specially silenced and electrically fired pistols which discharged leaden bullets containing deadly poison. The whole weapon was disguised as a cigarette case.

When the case, which is covered in leather, is opened it shows the ends of 23 cigarettes. Under a false bottom is the firing apparatus and a 1.5-volt battery.

POISON BULLETS

The bullets, shaped in dum-dum fashion to flatten out on impact, contain a mixture of potassium cyanide and soluble rubber. Each dose of cyanide is more than 100 times strong enough to kill.

The weapons, of which two were issued to the team, were found to be accurate up to 25 feet and could penetrate a one-inch teakwood board at that range. They could be fired noiselessly from the pocket without making smell or smoke.

The weapons were smuggled into Germany from Austria in a German automobile battery, wrapped in watertight plastic. U.S. officers said.

A U.S. high commission official, J. Macdermont, told the press conference that after surrendering the three men gave a "comprehensive" report on their activities as well as general information.

RUSSIA ASKED TO SPELL OUT NATO BID

PARIS (UP)—The Big Three foreign ministers today agreed to ask Russia just how the Soviet offer to join the anti-Communist North Atlantic Treaty Organization would work.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault approved a new note to the Kremlin which will invite Russia to spell out in detail its surprise bid to join NATO. (See story Page 2.)

McCarthy Pressed for Commission For Schine, General Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj.-Gen. Miles Reber testified today that in 10 years as army liaison officer with Congress he recalled no case where he was "put under greater pressure" than he was in demands for an officer's commission for G. David Schine, aide to Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep., Wis.).

Reber told senators investigating the McCarthy-army row that "unusual" methods were used to seek a commission for Schine.

"It wasn't normal action," Reber said in describing what he called appeals by McCarthy and Roy Cohn, chief counsel of McCarthy's Senate investigating sub-committee.

But Reber said he was never "intimidated" by the senator.

Schine, with the draft pressing upon him, applied for an army commission last July 15.

A wealthy New Yorker, Schine was then an unpaid consultant to McCarthy's sub-committee.

Turned down for a commission, Schine eventually was drafted and is now an army private.

COHN OUTDID MCCARTHY

Reber said Cohn was "persistently after me" to speed a commission for Schine.

It was in response to questions from J. N. Welch, special army counsel, that Reber said the Schine case brought the greatest pressure of any he recalled.

Reber said this pressure came from both the senator and Roy Cohn, counsel to McCarthy's Senate investigations sub-committee, but particularly from Cohn.

McCarthy retorted that it was "completely false" that any improper pressure was exerted on behalf of Schine.

McCarthy raised a question of whether Reber was prejudiced. He said Reber's brother, Sam Reber, then acting high

Student Pilot Dies

CLARESHOLM, Alta. (CP)—RCAP student pilot D. F. Boswell, 19, of Coburg, Ont., was killed Wednesday night in the crash of a Harvard training plane about a mile west of RCAF station Clareholm in southwestern Alberta.

Inhalator Fails To Save Child

A fire department inhalator crew was unable to save the life of a 22-month-old girl who died at her home early today.

Cause of death of Gladys, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, 3119 Delta, is understood to have been a respiratory seizure due to illness.

Firemen attended an emergency call at 1:45 a.m. but life was pronounced extinct by the family physician shortly after.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Sands Mortuary Ltd.

$100,000 Blaze

MARWAYNE, Alta. (CP)—Damage estimated at $100,000 was done early today by fire which wiped out two stores, a poolroom, a coffee shop and two dwellings on one side of the main street of this farming community about 150 miles southwest of Edmonton.

Two families were left homeless. No one was injured.

34 Permits For Vancouver; Boats Get Bars

Cocktail Lounges for Trains, City Applications Still Secret

The first licenses to be granted under British Columbia's new Liquor Act were announced today by Liquor Commissioner Col. Donald McGugan.

Vancouver hotels, cafes and cabarets were issued a total of 34 licenses, for cocktail lounges, dining lounges and dining room outlets.

CPR ferries plying between Vancouver Island and the mainland will open bars, and serve wines and beer with meals early in May.

The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National were granted total of 68 licenses for operating lounges, or cocktail bars, and dining-lounges, on boats and trains.

All licenses issued take effect immediately, and outlets will open as soon as cafe and restaurant owners can install required facilities.

CPR officials say outlets will be in operation on every boat, with the exception of the Princess of Alberni. Transcontinental and some local trains operating out of Vancouver will also open bars, or serve drinks with meals, "as early in May as possible."

City voters will go to the polls next Wednesday to vote on a plebiscite to determine whether present liquor regulations will stay in effect, or the new liquor act implemented.

Canadian National Railways trains also will open bars on transcontinental lines, but regulations concerning hours of sale will eliminate drinks on trains leaving late at night.

Granting of the licenses came almost eight months after B.C.'s new liquor act was approved by the Legislature, and nearly two years after residents of the province approved the sale of liquor by the glass in the 1952 plebiscite.

The plebiscite showed that B.C. residents favored drinks-by-the-glass by a two-to-one margin.

Liquor Commissioner McGugan said the licenses issued today do not represent the total applications. He said "there are still many applications in the Vancouver licensing area that have not been processed."

The establishments which have been granted licenses reflect the board's policy of not awarding restaurants licenses to sell hard liquor.

They are restricted to selling beer and wines. However, Col.

WETS VS. DRYS AT 8 TONIGHT

The argument whether Victoria is to have the new type liquor outlets reaches its peak tonight at the forum arranged by Junior Chamber of Commerce in Britannia Branch Legion Hall at 8. Speakers for both wets and drys will summarize the pros and cons in anticipation of next Wednesday's plebiscite.

U.S. Airlift Planes Must By-Pass India

Nehru Refuses Use Of Short-Cut Route

NEW DELHI, India (UP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today forbade U.S. airlift planes from flying over India with French commandos destined for battle at Dien Bien Phu.

The U.S. Air Force called a special meeting at Wiesbaden, Germany, where it was announced today that the 8,500-mile Paris-to-Indo-China airlift had started, to discuss Nehru's ban.

An official spokesman said the planes would not land or fly over Indian territory.

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—French pilots, adopting American rain-making measures, seeded dry ice today in heavy clouds over Communist supply routes in the Dien Bien Phu area, French military sources reported.

The desperate tactic was aimed at turning into mud the roads that lead from the border of Red China to Communist Indo-Chinese forces encircling the fortress.

TARGET—10 POUNDS IN 9 DAYS

Our Audrey Tries Josephine's Diet

Audrey St. Denis Johnson, whose name and drama criticisms are well known to Times readers, essay a new role today. She has consented to try out Josephine Lowman's 9-day diet and tell readers how it works. Her first article appears below. Today's diet is on Page 16.

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON
I think the boss must have heard about that ominous creak when I leaned on the piano at the Royal Theatre the other night; because yesterday he said: "You're going on the Josephine Lowman nine-day diet!"

And I can't find any other reason—without looking in the mirror which I don't do more often than I can help—from the neck down, that is! A lightning peek to see if my stockings are straight and I hurry out of my sight!

Well anyway, here I am after contemplating the idea of a diet for months, actually launched on one, well into the second day and feeling a little dizzy about it all—or is it the plunge from my "calorie-peak" that is dizzy?

It reminds me of trying to decide to dive into the cold water and suddenly getting pushed over the edge.

I just hope any musician or actor likely to cross my path in the next few days will take this for a warning and try to understand that my ill-natured snarls are not altogether caused by him. After all a hungry critic is likely to be a vicious one.

There are recorded incidents in fact, of producers dining and winning critics before a show; but I don't think that temptation is likely to arise for me—though if it does, especially along about Saturday, the boss will probably have to tie me down!

Audrey (Nine-Day Wonder?) Johnson

One thing, I'm glad I had my Easter Sunday dinner before it happened. Come to think of it, maybe that's why it happened!

To tell you the truth, I don't really mind going along with this experiment in the least—what woman wouldn't subject her appetite to nine days' discipline if she thought her trim, girlish figure waited at the end of it like the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow?

You see, I had to weigh in at the start—and I stepped off the scales with a sudden wild enthusiasm for the whole idea! No, I'm not going to tell the astronomic figure those scales registered. You'll have to wait till the end when all the pounds have magically melted away—I hope!

In the meantime, girls, I've just looked at tomorrow's menu. Ummm! Not bad! Only thing is I wish I could begin on them now—right this minute. Tomorrow's a lot of empty hours away. Wonder if Josephine Lowman would approve of me borrowing one of the tomorrow's meals and tacking scales with a sudden wild en-

Guess th' forecast fer Victoria on plebiscite day is: partly wet an' partly dry, with storms between.

McCarthy don't mind gettin' covered with mud hisself, long's he kin splash some on t' other guy.

Kind of a humorous-type joke t' fasten a sales tax on th' home folks an' then set off fer furrin parts where y' don't hev t' pay it.

JUST for the RECORD

U-M-M: In Moji, Japan, an American touch has been added to the office of the municipal assembly president where hang portraits of solemn, unsmiling former mayors.

Placed between two stern, be-whiskered gentlemen is a three-foot picture of Marilyn Monroe—in the nude.

IMPERATIVE: In St. Paul, Minn., a 14-year-old boy set a $25,000 fire in the Theodore Hamm mansion Wednesday and then gave himself up to a policeman.

"I had to get into some kind of trouble today," he said.

TOY: In Brisbane, Calif., Joseph H. Scully, 5, found an egg-shaped plaything near his new home and was having great fun bouncing it off the side of the house when his father arrived home.

His father took care of Joseph while police took care of the plaything—a live hand grenade.

DEMONSTRATOR: In San Francisco, N.C., police were demonstrating a speed timing device for the mayor and board of aldermen Wednesday when along came motorist Grady Pardue.

The device showed Pardue was going 45 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. The officers arrested him.

SCRATCHED: In Galveston, Tex., the only married man among 101 volunteers slated to participate in a "splash day" here May 1-2 has withdrawn because "my wife might not understand."

The volunteers will smear sun-tan lotion on the bodies of 75 bathing beauties during a contest.

KING FOR A DAY: In Petersburg, Va., Tippy, a 14-year-old 250-pound gorilla in an animal show, has some ideas of his own about who should be called the "King of Beasts."

He tore the bars off a lion's cage and escaped for three hours Wednesday after being placed there while his own cage was being cleaned.

Sleeping pills in a tempting beverage finally quieted him down.

Assault Brings $20 or 15 Days

A $20 fine with the option of 15 days in jail was imposed by Magistrate H. C. Hall Wednesday on George Haslam, West-holme Hotel following his conviction for assault.

Haslam was given one week to pay after he had asked for two weeks' grace pending arrival of a Workmen's Compensation cheque.

The conviction arose from a fracas in the hotel in the early hours of March 25 when, evidence showed, the night clerk had asked Haslam to turn down his radio.

The clerk, James Kirkham, said he was struck by the accused in an ensuing argument in the hotel lobby. Haslam's defense was that Kirkham had injured himself in running away from him through the hotel doors.

Food, Clothing Haul U.S. Living Index Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that lower food and clothing prices brought U.S. living costs down in March for a second straight month, to the lowest point since last July.

The March decline as shown by the bureau of labor statistics index was two-tenths of one per cent. The index dropped to 114.8 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

Geneva Parley Opening Mon. May Be Delayed

Red China's Role Not Yet Settled

PARIS (AP)—Informed sources said an impression developed during a meeting of the Western Big Three foreign ministers today that the opening of the Geneva conference might be delayed.

These sources said the feeling was that so many preliminary issues remain to be settled that further consultations among the Western powers and also private talks with Russia would have to precede the formal opening of the conference which is scheduled to begin Monday.

The major question which must be settled, this source said, is the role which Red China will play in the talks.

There are also questions of the organization of the conference which have not been settled in the preliminary contacts at Geneva between Western and Soviet representatives.

The informant left the impression that almost all of the questions of the "technique" of the conference are unsettled. It was learned that the representatives of the Big Four have not even determined the form of the meeting, that is, whether it will be a round-table conference or conducted in an auditorium with speakers going to a rostrum.

The three Western ministers met at the French foreign ministry this afternoon to discuss the Geneva meeting after U.S. State Secretary Dulles conferred in separate meetings with Foreign Secretary Eden and Foreign Minister Bidault.

NAKUSP FLUORINE GIVES CITIZENS BETTER TEETH

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Public Health Service Institute was told in Vancouver Wednesday that residents of Nakusp, which has more natural fluorine in its water supply than other B.C. towns, have better than average teeth.

M. J. Stewart, reporting on behalf of the preventive dentistry division, said studies had shown a reduction in tooth decay in the Arrow Lakes town, although it has less fluorine than is needed for the best results.

Dentists estimate that one part of fluorine in a million parts of water is the ideal. Nakusp water contains about seven-tenths of one part per million.

Reds Recall Embassy Officials in Australia

Action Follows in Wake of Petrov's Defection To West; Security Agents Guard Spy's Wife

CANBERRA (AP)—The Soviet Union appeared today to have started calling home many of its people in Australia who were in too close contact with the Russian embassy's fugitive third secretary, Vladimir Petrov.

In the wake of Petrov's defection to the West and the dramatic last-minute rescue of his wife from armed Soviet couriers hustling her back to Moscow, the Kremlin was reported today to have recalled Victor Antonov, correspondent in Australia for Tass, the official Soviet news agency, and a junior Soviet embassy attaché, Y. E. Platkaia.

Reliable sources said the embassy's commercial attaché, N. G. Kovalev, also is preparing for an early flight home. Antonov is believed by Australian security officials to have been the chief contact man in the espionage ring in Australia which Petrov claims he headed. Petrov turned over a huge mass of documents to the Australians to back up his claims when he sought refuge from Communism early this month.

AIR OF SECRECY
The plane bearing Mrs. Petrov to her husband's side landed secretly at a naval air port at Schofield, 18 miles from Sydney, today. Australian security agents immediately whisked away the 35-year-old blonde. Mrs. Petrov did not leave the airport by the main exit. She may have been hustled out through a side door or continued on in another plane to Goulburn, New South Wales, or to Canberra.

An elaborate security screen has protected her on her 1,000-mile flight from northern Australia.

Waiting newspaper men found the C-47 carrying the Russian woman empty when it landed at Richmond air force base in New South Wales, 40 miles from Sydney.

The government meanwhile drew up its reply to a Soviet embassy note angrily accusing its refugee former third secretary and purported MVD security police chief in Australia with obtaining by forgery "large sums of state money."

The embassy demanded that Petrov be turned over to the Russians as a common criminal.

The Australians plan to ask the Russians for detailed proof of their charges. Prime Minister Robert Menzies scoffed at the embezzlement accusation, branding it a "purely conventional Soviet allegation."

He said it will in no way affect the investigation now going on by a special royal commission into Petrov's spying disclosures.

McCarthy Claims Plot To End His Red Probe

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said Wednesday he believes "devilishly clever" men are plotting to end his investigations of Communism.

McCarthy flew back to Washington Wednesday night to be on hand for opening hearings into charges by the army that he and his chief counsel Roy Cohn used improper pressure to obtain special treatment for drafted McCarthy aide, G. David Schine.

The senator told of his fears of the plot before 7,500 Texans gathered to observe San Jacinto Day at the San Jacinto battle field just south of here where the decisive battle of Texas' war with Mexico was fought in 1836.

Top Quality, Styles Mark Japanese Goods

Two-Week Tour Ends for B.C. Group; Businessmen Impressed With Articles

TOKYO (CP)—The Canadian trade mission to Japan left for home today by Canadian Pacific Airlines plane after a "fruitful" two-week stay devoted to finding means of boosting Japanese-Canadian trade.

Howard Walters, vice-president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, said "this visit to Japan of the largest trade delegation ever to go abroad from Canada has proved very fruitful. I feel it has laid a firm foundation for greatly increased trade between our two countries."

Walters said the Canadian public has been under the impression that Japanese goods are made only for the low-priced market, but "our former impressions of quality and style were entirely reversed" by their tour.

QUALITY GOODS

"Now we feel Japan is producing quality goods that can compete with those manufactured anywhere else in the world. Of course, the buying public in Canada will need education."

"With this purpose in mind, many members of the delegation have made sample purchases to make an initial showing of present-day Japanese goods with the idea of stockpiling those lines which will be favorably received in Canada."

Forty-six members of the 60-man delegation left today. The remainder, including G. W. G. McConachie, president of Canadian Pacific Airlines and head of the trade mission, will remain a few days more in Japan "to clean up final contacts."

The delegation, during its stay in Japan, visited the great industrial centres of Osaka, Nagoya and Kobe, and also attended Japan's first international trade fair in Osaka.

CHICKS DELAY CASE

DETROIT (AP)—Raymond J. Smarsz, 44, a farmer, had 500 reasons why he couldn't appear in traffic court. He received word of his scheduled court appearance on the same day he got 500 baby chicks with no one to take care of them but himself. The court postponed the case.

Plans for municipal improvements in Oak Bay this year were scrapped by council as a tax hike of 1.5 mills was announced by Reeve E. Norris Wednesday night.

Blaming the increased rate of 48.5 mills on increased costs in maintaining public agencies, the reeve hit at recent council board awards to firemen, police and inside and outside staffs, totalling $17,000.

But a $35,000 boost in school costs was the largest single irritant.

"Instead of improving our municipality, we are getting near the point where we will be unable to maintain it," said the reeve in announcing the finance committee findings.

CANT CONTINUE

"Relief must be given municipalities from burdens placed on them beyond their control," he stated and added that the municipality cannot "continue to curtail essential services."

Reeve Norris claimed that the 1954 estimates, which were receiving a final paring in committee session just prior to Wednesday's council meeting, was "purely a maintenance budget."

He pointed to $75,200 increases in items over which the council had no control, as being responsible for the boost. He stated that the total increase represented six mills on the 1954 assessment. It was revealed earlier that before slashing of estimates, a 5.5 mill increase had been indicated.

The result has been that the municipality has had to cut sharply the year's public works program, he said.

PLANS SHELVED

Plans for renovating the municipal hall have been shelved, a proposed new garbage truck and crew to operate it had been dropped. Except for essential sewer and seawall work, little will be spent on improvements this year, he indicated.

Finance chairman, C. Patrick Birley, added that at least the municipality has ceased digging into reserves.

Here are the departmental increases blamed for the tax hike, according to the reeve:

School costs are up $35,000; library, $4,000; police, $3,100; debt charges, $15,000; hospital, $500; social welfare, $600; and salary increases (mostly by council board awards), $17,000.

Oak Bay mill rate held its own for two years prior to this latest increase. It remained at 47 mills during 1952 and 1953 and in 1951 was 45 mills.

Ban on Raffles, Bingo Passed at B.C. Synod

Resolution Draws Comment During Debate At Session Here; Principle Said Involved

A resolution prohibiting the use of church raffles, lotteries and bingo games was passed Wednesday at the 52nd session of the Synod of the Diocese of British Columbia at the Memorial Hall here.

The resolution, which read in part, "that the synod prohibit the use of raffles, bingo, etc., for raising of church funds," brought a storm of comments from various members of the clergy and the laity.

Opponents of the resolution, which would rescind a 1945 resolution that had "strongly condemned" such practices, but which had not actually prohibited them, argued that the new motion would "cramp the style" of many of the church organizations, and that the amount raised by raffles and bingo was not large enough to constitute an evil.

Archbishop Harold Sexton, in his charge to the synod earlier, had condemned the use of raffles, stating, "we all know that betting and gambling can very easily develop into a corruption which should not be tolerated by responsible citizens... the hands of the churches must be clean before they condemn any of our fellow-citizens in the adoption of such practices."

Dean P. R. Beattie of Christ Church Cathedral, Rev. William Hills of St. George's Church, Cadboro Bay, and Rev. P. W. Roberts of the Naval Garrison Church in Esquimalt, came out strongly in favor of the gambling prohibition.

What About

LIQUOR IN RESTAURANTS

As It Stands Now,

Children are not allowed in any of our present liquor places, even with parents. BUT in two of the new outlets children will be permitted even without parents. One of these two is Liquor in Restaurants.

Now This Is Important

A restaurant serving liquor can—and in many cases does become a glorified Beer Parlor, because by law you may buy as little as a sandwich and then you are permitted to sit at a table and consume all the liquor you want. Imagine your children being permitted to frequent a place like this without your presence. It's a fact this can be the case right here in our own city.

Again, Ask Yourself This Question:

Are those who want to operate any of these new outlets thinking of your welfare or of lining their own pockets? After all there's a lot of money to be made in the sale of liquor.

So for those of you who like a drink, we have ample outlets now

Expanding more than ever

Rift on the Rhine

IF RUSSIA'S MILITARY STRATEGY is failing in Indo-China against the heroism of French troops, its political strategy has lately made gratifying progress in Europe, the heart of the world struggle.

Nothing could suit Russia better than the developing rift between West Germany and France. Disguised by official statements, that division already has reached a dangerous point and may involve, after all, Mr. Dulles' "agonizing reappraisal" of the western world's policy along the Rhine.

The European Defence Community had two purposes. It was to establish an international army, with German contingents, which could defend western Europe. Proposed by France in the first place, it was also designed to reconcile France and Germany, the traditional enemies whose quarrels have exploded into two world wars. The high policies of Britain, the United States, Canada and most of the free world were based on the EDC.

After the recent Berlin conference had apparently increased the unity of Britain, the United States and France it was hoped that the EDC would be ratified in the French Parliament without further delay, that it would be a fait accompli before the Geneva conference began, this month, to consider the problems of Asia. For at Geneva it is expected that Russia will agree to end the Indo-Chinese war and relieve France of those almost intolerable burdens, provided France rejects the EDC.

This convenient time-table has failed. There is no immediate sign of action on the EDC in Paris. On the contrary, French opposition to Germany's rearmament seems to be growing in power and violence. A weak Government so far has not dared to face the issue.

Meanwhile West Germany, in the heady days of its industrial recovery, is growing increasingly restive. It depends upon the EDC not only for the right to arm but for the recognition of its full sovereignty as a nation. Rearmament and sovereignty are both tied into the EDC agreement, now nearly two years old on paper.

Canadian Schools on Foreign Soil

SCHOOL TRUSTEE HUMPHREY Golby has raised an interesting point regarding the education to be given in France and Germany to children of Canadian military men serving there.

When the school board approved a plan to send two Victoria teachers to schools in those countries, Mr. Golby advanced the idea that "too much of an effort shouldn't be made to Canadianize their education. If (residence in France and Germany) should be an opportunity to absorb customs of a foreign country."

Mr. Golby is a Canadian. He presumably has no wish to see children of Canadian parents prejudicially influenced by the surroundings of a foreign community. But he speaks with some perception when he suggests that alien residence be

Mr. Adenauer has not been idle while the French Parliament hesitates. He has made a highly significant gesture, and probably much more than a gesture, by going to Turkey and reviving Germany's old friendship there. Thus he has renewed, in one sense, a German policy inaugurated by Kaiser Wilhelm, before the first World War. But while the Kaiser's policy of Berlin-to-Bagdad was directed against western Europe and almost succeeded in the autumn of 1914, Mr. Adenauer's policy is designed, on the contrary, to fit the policies of Britain and the United States, at the expense of alienating France.

Sir Winston Churchill has called Mr. Adenauer the greatest German since Bismarck. As such he is demonstrating to France that West Germany has friends in London, Washington, Ankara and in other parts of the free world. He is confronting France with the danger of diplomatic encirclement, if France refuses to ratify the EDC.

Clearly if the EDC is indefinitely blocked—or "murdered by pinpricks" as The New York Times reports from Paris—the great western powers must find an alternative. Germany is to be rearmament one way or another, and sooner or later, must be granted full sovereignty.

Mr. Adenauer is reported as being ready to seek a direct alliance with Britain and the United States if he cannot secure Germany's independence and rearmament under the EDC. In desperation the western powers might have to accept that as the only available alternative, even at the risk of French anger. Presumably Mr. Dulles meant something of the sort—though his ideas were never explained—when he spoke of "agonizing reappraisal."

It is very late in the day but not too late to hope that France, recognizing that its safety and future depend primarily on the support of the United States and the Commonwealth, will still ratify the EDC and thus frustrate Russia's continual and skilful attempt to split the grand alliance. The time of France's decision, however, is rapidly running out.

used, as it can so admirably be used, to expand the horizons of the young people whose fathers and mothers are now living away from their native lands.

The former classical process of sending the graduate student abroad for study is reversed by the present procedure. The children of service families in France and Germany are subject to the foreign influence before they have acquired their rudimentary Canadian education. Yet, provided they are given certain subjects basic to the Canadian view, they should benefit. Not only will they have an appreciation of the way other peoples live. They should develop a breadth of understanding which could make them better citizens of the Canadian democracy when they grow up.

Not Too Excited About Clothes

IT IS ENCOURAGING TO NOTE the lack of excitement shown by Victoria's school authorities over the exaggerated clothes and hair styles of so-called "zoot-suiters."

The question of outlandish dress and extravagant hair cuts is not a serious concern to them. In this respect the local situation differs from that in Vancouver. On the mainland one school principal has announced his intention to "outlaw" the garb that has come to characterize a nasty group of badly-mannered and sometimes vicious adolescents.

The Victoria authorities appear to have reached the very sane conclusion that it isn't the clothes that make the boy. Nor is it the freakish hair style. A Mohawk cut—if they still call it that—isn't so important as the brain beneath it. The odd tenuous effort may be a symbol of a mean little mind, or it may be, and most probably is, a mere fad.

Such vogues are reasonable enough. Styles change. A youth or man with the elegant curls of a King Charles, and the fancy long coat and satin knee-britches to match would cut an odd figure on city streets today. And the elder of the present generation, distasteful as he may consider the present youngsters' trouser lines, can't escape a certain sense of guilt if he looks back 25 years or so to the Oxford bags that sagged from his hips at an earlier age.

Blazing a New Trail

THE GENTLEMEN AND BOYS of St. George's Cathedral Choir, Kingston, Ont., are making history in Canada. The present group of 35 men and 50 boys continues the work of an all-male choir that has sung the services at St. George's for nearly 100 years.

Three years ago it accepted an invitation—the first offered to a Canadian choir—to sing at the Choral Eucharist of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York. It has also been heard on the radio and shortly will appear on television. But the crowning event will occur next summer when the choir, ending a 900-year-old Abbey tradition, will fill the stalls in Westminster Abbey, replacing for three weeks the Abbey choir.

The invitation to such an honor is a tribute to the excellence of the St. George's group and its choir-master, Mr. George Maybee. But it is a pleasure which all Canadians may share, a further acknowledgment of our gradual coming of age as a nation. Many who read of the choir in The Times Weekend magazine last week will follow its forthcoming visit overseas with added interest. Establishment of an Abbey precedent after 900 years is a milestone indeed.

LOOSE ENDS

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Cowboy from Holland

THE great myth of America recently hurtled into my garden on a tricycle, ridden by a golden-haired boy from Holland. I do not know his name because he has yet to master the English language, but no doubt I shall be able to understand him within six months. He is picking up new English words by the hour and already is able to utter, in a strange mixture of English and Dutch, the familiar fable of this continent.

He first informed me that he was a cowboy. He brandished two toy pistols, carried in handsome leather holsters, and the tricycle was his horse. It didn't look much like a horse to an old fellow like me, raised in a cowtown and riding a pony almost before I could walk. But in the imagination of the Dutch immigrant boy the tricycle would serve. It had borne him triumphantly into the Wild West. He was, for all practical purposes, that is to say the purposes of his imagination—a cowboy riding the somewhat restricted range of my front lawn.

MY young friend, with his golden hair and pink Dutch cheeks, knows little of America but he has hit unerringly on its inner contents. He has joined, with his tricycle and his pistols, the great procession which started out of Europe in the first days of the seventeenth century and ended finally right here, on the Pacific Coast. He has felt, with all the deep wisdom of childhood, the primal force forever driving the North American against the wilderness. He has seen, after the lovely postage-stamp land of Holland, the limitless space of this continent. He has breathed the West.

Let him breathe it, even at the expense of galloping on his tiny iron horse over some of my shrubs and perennials, for he appears to me a more attractive and enduring flower than any I can grow. Let him breathe the West, let him look open-eyed at space, let him see in imagination the rolling range and the old free life. We are witnessing in our neighborhood the birth of a Canadian.

CANADA could use a million of his sort—the Dutch people who have built a rich nation and great society on a few square yards of dyked mud at the edge of the North Sea. They bring us the very qualities we most need in this empty land, above all the sense of the land's value, the will to cultivate and protect it.

Today the Dutch boy had graduated from the estate of a cowboy and, instinctively, by the unconscious racial memory of his people, had become a farmer. His father, also a farmer, had presented him with a set of toy tools, a shovel, hoe and rake. Immediately the horse and pistols were forgotten.

THIS morning as I drove down our country lane the Dutch boy was busily digging up the roadside, smoothing it down and preparing to sow his first crop, as his ancestors have sowed, century by century, in their narrow farms, undisturbed by flood, pestilence and war. There, in that small figure, squatting thoughtfully by the road, was the genius of Holland, transplanted across an ocean and a continent.

With a shou half-English and half Dutch, he bade me observe his labors. They didn't amount to much, judged by the standards of scientific agriculture or by his father's long spring furrows nearby, but they were a beginning. The ancient seeds of Holland were sprouting in Canadian soil.

SOON, I suppose, this child will forget his native land and his father's language. He may never see again the miles of blooming tulips, the windmills, the dikes, the busy canals, the shiny, picture-book towns that fascinate the Canadian traveler. Within a few months of entering a Canadian school he will be indistinguishable from the other young Canadians in appearance and speech.

Yes, but lads like these carry with them across the ocean and the continent an invisible cargo which no customs inspector will discern. They carry, like the first Canadians who were French, like the English, the Scots, the Irish and the rest of us, a little fragment of the Old World, and it is of such fragments, growing in a new soil, that Canada is made.

WE may never know it, but we all contain this secret transatlantic freight and, in combination with environment, it makes us what we are. A Dutch boy, gabbling in a strange tongue, riding an imaginary horse, flourishing toy revolvers and digging by the roadside, utters again the testament of our fathers, tells the whole story and contains the destiny of Canada.

EASTER LILY

There appeared in your paper for Saturday, April 17, an article by Messrs. Beebe and Hubbard of the Provincial Museum, headed "Easter Lily."

I must take issue with these gentlemen for the familiar B.C. flower to which they refer is most definitely not an Easter Lily. It is the Erythronium Dens-canis, or the Common Dog's Tooth Violet.

The Easter Lily is the common name for the Liliun longiflorum giganteum and the L. longiflorum erab, and cannot be confused with the former.

RESURRECTED

Here's that man again! Well, what would you have me do? Stuart Keate stood up and was counted in his column "Showmanship in Religion," in April 17 issue, and the final words in the leading editorial of the same issue: "...and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father and say unto my Father; and to my God, and your God," does invite comment.

It is unthinkable that the whole of our Christian Commonwealth be founded on a delusion, so we have it that the impossible in our present status quo, of existence, happened. A righteous man, worthy of divinity, was raised from the dead, the first fruit of all that believe.

What is wrong with the picture? None of us are raised from the dead. Those who have gone, are sleeping in the dust of the earth; we mourn their passing and plant tombstones. So are we waiting for the resurrection that has not yet been made manifest?

"Our Father, if you son ask bread, will ye give him a stone?" Can you imagine, for a moment that tragedy, pain, sorrow, the fear, and torment, the hunger and impoverishment of human beings is well pleasing to God in heaven? I am saying that God would long ago have delivered us from death, and all the ills of the flesh since Adam, had we required Him to do it for us; not that many of us are worth much more than the powder to blow us to Hades, but because God undertook to deliver us, for His name's sake.

OFF PREMISES

In the forthcoming liquor plebiscite "Question A" reads: "Are you in favor of the sale of beer, ale, and stout, only under a public house license for consumption on licensed premises?" (Note: A public house license will be similar to the present beer parlor license.)

The Liquor Control Act states, page 12, Section 30 (d) "Public house license for the sale and consumption on the premises or elsewhere of malt liquor and light refreshments."

"Elsewhere" in the B.C. Government News, November, 1953, means "In addition to beer, ale and stout may be sold, and any of these may be sold by the bottle to be taken off the premises." This means that we shall continue to have drinking in the bottle in cars, in bedrooms, and elsewhere. Concerning drinking in bedrooms, see recommendations of the Liquor Inquiry Commission, page 28, Section 2, "Room service by the glass should be permitted in hotels to transient guests only, but no sales by the bottle except beer."

This indicates in no uncertain words that unless we vote "no" to question "A," the new Liquor Act would be worse than the old, since ale and stout may be taken off the premises as well as beer.

A Policy Is Needed

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Washington

WHILE Mr. Nixon's speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors had much of the appearance of being a calculated indiscretion, I find it hard to believe that it was calculated. For his remarks were an assortment of ideas and attitudes—things he learned on his trip, hypothetical questions he has heard discussed—which manifestly have not been added up to make anything that could be called a considered and coherent policy.

How, for example, are we to reconcile what he seemed to be saying to the editors' meeting about dispatching troops if the French withdraw with what he said in his big television speech on March 15, a month ago:

"Since our former policy failed we then asked ourselves the question: What kind of a new policy should we announce? And in determining what that policy should be we decided to find out what the men in the Kremlin were up to."

'LITTLE WARS'

"We found that militarily their plan apparently was to destroy us by drawing us into little wars all over the world with their satellites, however, where they, themselves, were not involved, and where, due to our inability to bring to bear our great superiority on the sea and in the air that we were unable to win those wars... we decided that we would not fall into these traps."

What has happened in the past month to cause the Vice-President to announce that he is prepared to eat his own words? The assault on Dienbienphu and the military reports from Gen. Ely and Mr. Pleven have brought a sudden realization in Washington that the French government is determined to try to negotiate an armistice.

Suddenly there has been a reappraisal of an old and not greatly changed situation. The notion, always an illusion and always fabricated, that there was a plan to win the war—and that we were backing that plan—has suddenly given way to a sense of what has really been going on in Indo-China.

When Mr. Nixon made his television speech, the whole Indo-Chinese policy in Washington was based on a false estimate of the situation in Indo-China. That was why he could say in March that "during the one year of the Eisenhower administration in not one area of the world have the Communists made a significant gain," and to promise that the new policy was working so well that there would be no need of "having more Korean-type of wars all over the world."

Now that the estimate has been discredited, and with it the policy based on it, a radical revision of policy has become necessary.

FLUID CONDITIONS

That is what Mr. Dulles has been laboring at—laboring under the greatest difficulties at home and abroad. A new policy cannot be improvised suddenly in so enormously complex a situation and under such very fluid conditions. A new policy can be arrived at only gradually by careful and astute testing of what is for American diplomacy a very new ground.

Any idea that a new policy was formulated and decreed in the National Security Council one fine day recently, or that Mr. Nixon has announced that policy, cannot be true.

The more one searches Mr. Nixon's remarks, the more obvious it is that there is no policy behind them. Determination to oppose the domination of Southeast Asia by the Communist powers is not a policy; it is an objective, necessary and desirable, which requires a workable policy to achieve it.

Making up one's mind that under certain circumstances we might have to dispatch forces to Indo-China is not a policy. It is an element in the implementation of a policy which has yet to be formed.

The only military policy we can have in Indo-China is one founded upon collaboration with France. It will have to be the willing collaboration of France. That willing collaboration cannot conceivably be won if we go to Geneva, as Mr. Nixon appears to want, determined in advance not to negotiate about the armistice we promised to go there to negotiate about.

I say this though I share his view that partition and coalition are not acceptable solutions. That is very different, however, from trying to rule out in advance any negotiated settlement.

A Matter of Conferencemanship

The Times (London)

WE live in an age of specialization. Even in our hobbies and pastimes amateurism is on the decline, and no one would dream of embarking, in the course of his professional activities, on something for which he had not been trained.

One has only to watch the committee assembling to see how widely, as between one member and another, the standards of conferencemanship vary.

Take for instance, Mr. Pin and Mr. Stripe. You would scarcely believe that they were both supposed to be engaged upon a common task.

Mr. Pin, arriving a minute and a half before C-hour, salutes his colleagues with a courteous but preoccupied nod, slips—quietly into his chair, puts on his spectacles with a kind of fierce precision (almost as if he was fixing his bayonet) and slaps down on the table in front of him a neat cardboard folder which he has extracted from his brief case.

There is a faint twang as he divests the dossier of its rubber band and, after permitting himself a disapproving glance at the window which someone has been inconsiderate enough to open, he immerses himself, gold pencil in hand, in a study of the minutes of the last meeting. Certain items in these have already been sidelined.

GREAT CONTRAST

Stripe's deportment could scarcely offer a greater contrast.

Characteristically, he made a mistake over the date and turned up for this meeting last Tuesday; still more characteristically, he tells everyone about this foolish lapse. He is smoking a cigar, is equipped only with an early edition of the evening paper and a brown paper parcel, and when C-hour arrives the start of the proceedings is delayed while Stripe, who has little sense of time, finishes the long anecdote in questionable taste which he has been relating to the chairman. Before he can be brought completely under starter's orders the secretary has to furnish him with a spare copy of the agenda and somebody else has to lend him a penknife to sharpen his pencil with.

In debate Pin, who never forgets to call the chairman Sir, asks permission to call attention to certain implications which may arise from an ambiguity in the wording of sub-paragraph 7 (e).

Stripe, on the rare occasions when he is in the picture at all, attacks on a much broader front. "But isn't the whole thing pretty good nonsense?" he inquires of the company at large; "I mean to say, couldn't we just leave things as they are?"

NOT SO SORRY

The chairman explains for the second time (Stripe was drawing an atomic explosion during his first exposition) the reasons why this course is out of the question. "Oh, I see," says Stripe. "Sorry."

His tone, baffled and rather hurt, makes it clear that he does not see and is not truly sorry.

The truth of the matter is that Nature never intended Stripe to be on a committee, or Pin to be off one; and it is only when the meeting ends that there is, for a moment, nothing to choose between them. Pin is on fire to attend another meeting. Stripe has for some time been longing to get out into the fresh air; so that often, as they quit the conference-chamber, there is not more than an umbrella's length between them.

IN DEFENCE

I don't like rooms that have been done absolutely over, everything matched and what contrast there is, is careful and deliberate. I don't know, they seem to lack something, the chair that doesn't go with the rest of the room but that is awfully comfortable and you have had since you were married, or a not very good picture that you picked up on some journey that makes you think of the pleasant time you had. Rooms are like gardens, it's only when the plants have settled down and sprawled over the edge of the path that flower beds look right, and in a room there ought to be several things that have just happened and you're going to keep in defiance of the color scheme.

Those Gorgeous Locks

I SEE by the papers that a North Vancouver High School Principal is getting tough about student extremes in trousers and hair styles. And I'll bet that dozens of parents who've been fighting the Battle of the Gorgeous Locks will be right in there applauding Principal L. R. McDougall for taking a firm and sensible stand.

Enke

The most objectionable hairdos, according to Mr. McDougall, are those which seldom see a barber shop. He's not too fond, either, of "sophisticated" types which go from the forehead to the back of the neck by way of the top of the head, the whole being plastered down with lanolin.

The hairdo with "a big bump of uncut hair on top of the head to the rear of the centre" comes in for criticism, too. Mr. McDougall, in fact, believes in moderation and good taste.

He's asked his school board to approve his plan to warn parents this spring to send their children to high school next fall in conservative and sensible attire.

The school board has hedged on approval but has commended the principal.

To regulate the dress and haircuts of students, says one trustee, would be an infringement on their freedom rights.

That, to my mind, is an idiotic statement. And to apply a noble phrase like "freedom rights" to zooty haircuts is verging on blasphemy. It's yet another example of the way we harp on freedom rights and forget to harp on freedom responsibilities.

And the sort of students who go in for extremes of clothing and hair styles are, as a rule, not the responsible type. They are usually the kind who can't get into the lime-light through scholastic achievement or through athletics, and so they resort to fancy duds.

Every generation has its share of students like these.

And what some parents don't realize is that if they allow their son to indulge in clothes of this kind, they are letting him be stamped as a certain type of youth. And it's mostly a pretty poor type. So the boy, whose parents are weak with him or simply don't understand the social implications of current fashions in clothes, is starting out with one strike against him right there.

I know one employer who won't take on boys with ultra-draped trousers and fancy haircuts. He goes down the line of applicants, weeding them out.

His reasoning is simple. "Boys like that are too busy thinking about themselves, their gorgeous drapes and their gorgeous locks, to be able to give attention to the jobs I set them. Nine times out of ten, you find they think they're too good for the job. And they don't know how to work. And in these days of high wages, I can't afford to hire a boy who is going to slob about on the job."

So, to my mind, a principal like Mr. McDougall, of North Vancouver High deserves praise and support. He knows the score. He knows that a bunch of loud-mouthed, zoot-suited students can create havoc in a school, and seriously impede pupils who must or want to work. He's helping ordinary parents to help their sons. He's trying to establish standards of good taste.

Violating "freedom rights"? Baloney!

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Along the Grapevine

NEW YORK—Eleanor Holm is off to St. Louis for the Easter holidays—and romance! Chums expect Lily Pons and Andre Kostelanetz to call it a day in a quiet, dignified manner, each having the highest regard for the other. But they feel her house-building in Palm Springs is a tip-off to the situation.

Dorothy

The Marlon Brando-Movita romance, which recently had resumed—with such warmth that matrimony seemed imminent, has exploded again—and with considerable force. At the last flash, Movita had called the whole thing off and headed toward her family hacienda in Mexico, and Marlon was brooding over her change of heart.

The cops at the 17th precinct are steaming. Elmer Burke, who is wanted for the murder of a longshoreman on the West Side two months ago, sent them all a St. Patrick's Day card inscribed, "Wish you luck, boys."

Frankie Laine was so stricken by the sudden death of his friend and accompanist, Carl Fisher, that he quite seriously considered retiring from show business. His obvious sincerity threw such panic into his booking agency that its top executives flew to the West Coast to dissuade him from giving up his career.

The dancing star of a Broadway musical has a big problem—recurring attacks of water on the knee. . . . Bobby Coogan, kid brother of the more famous Jackie, is squiring singer Pat Rainey around the Paris night spots.

There's a bright new star on the theatrical horizon: Jeff Harris, an 18-year-old actor who played the lead on the Robert Montgomery TV show. His deft performance had half a dozen producers—flick and legit—telephoning with breathless queries. . . . A Congressman who holds an important government committee post is about to be labelled a security risk insofar as atomic energy matters are involved. The AEC has informed the White House that he "talks too much"—to the wrong people.

Meppo to Commissioner Adams: Broadway again is crawling with those tin can shakers who solicit money for charities nobody ever heard of. Are they licensed? . . . Actor Guy Kibbee, confined to the Aurora Health Institute in Rye, would love to receive mail. It looks like a long stay for the jolly character man whose performances enlivened so many movies.

Jean Despres, the French couturier, must be optimistic about the future of ex-Queen Nartman and other moved Egyptian folk. He's settling in his Cairo salon, obviously expecting big trade from Farouk's dark-eyed former bride and Her Set. . . . Evelyn Keyes is wearing a big diamond on her engagement finger. (Oh, Mike Todd—you, hoo, you!)

Jury Pay

Hike Sought By Unions

Revival of the fight to secure more money for persons serving on juries is being undertaken by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC).

While efforts to secure higher pay for jury service were rejected last year, the council decided to renew its efforts at a meeting Wednesday night after hearing the plea of a carpenter.

The carpenter said he got called in for jury duty recently and only received $6 a day. The result was he was out of pocket $100.

The council will take the matter up with the attorney general's office.

Labor Council

To Investigate BCHIS Dismissals

The hardship facing some of the 250 B.C. Hospital Insurance Service workers, laid off by the government, in not being covered by unemployment insurance, is being investigated by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC).

At a meeting Wednesday night members approved a move that the Unemployment Insurance Commission's advisory committee be asked to hold a special meeting to investigate the situation.

Any final protest that might arise following the council's investigations will be sent to the unemployment commission, the provincial government and the Trades and Labor Council's national headquarters.

Rezoning Sought

For South Side Of Goodwin St.

Building permits for new construction worth $48,750 were approved by Oak Bay council Wednesday night.

A $25,000 home by owner-designer-builder, A. P. Dawe, will be constructed at 3480 Ripon Road. A store building valued at $9,750 will be built by W. B. Revercomb at 2091 Cadboro Bay Road, and a home valued at $14,000 will go up at 2807 Dunlevy for N. L. Morgan.

A petition headed by Anna Bertha Mathison, 166 Goodwin, asking for rezoning, to apartment-house use, of property on the south side of Goodwin Street, will be referred to the Town Planning Commission.

Ask Added Power

For Prince Rupert Radio Station

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—City council here has joined the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op Association in requesting that the power of local radio station CEPR be increased so fishermen can receive the morning broadcast directed to them.

Ken Harding, secretary-manager of the Co-op, told council the B.C. fishermen's broadcast provided a service to fishermen but the station did not have sufficient range to reach the fishing grounds.

Council ordered a letter sent to Transport Minister Chevrier, under whose department the CBC is directed, asking that the power increase be approved.

Minister Asks

Data on Schools

The Education Department will not pursue charges of defective school construction unless there is evidence that defects exist.

Education Minister Ray Wilfiston has asked the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association to give him specific information relating to specific schools.

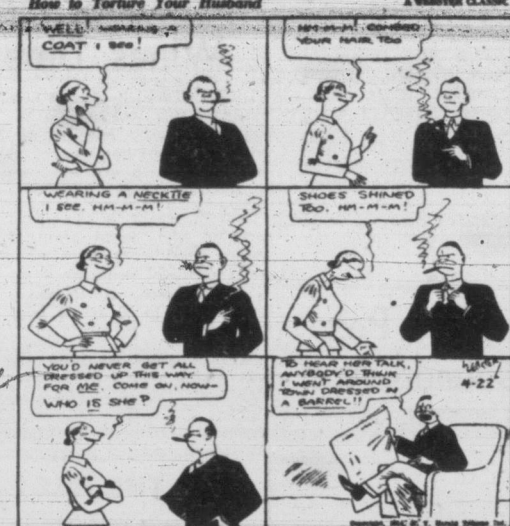

The association recently asked for a judicial inquiry into new school construction since it alleged defects were showing in the foundation of a number of schools on Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Soviet Concert Stars Play to Packed House

2,500 in Toronto Applaud Performance Of Six Artists; 'Highly Enjoyable,' Says Critic

TORONTO (BUP)—Six Soviet concert stars opened a Canadian tour here Wednesday night and drew applause from the audience and praise from critics.

More than 2,500 persons jammed Massey Hall to hear the 2½-hour concert and many others stood outside in hope of getting tickets. Police were stationed outside in case hecklers tried to break up the concert, but the evening was not marked by a single incident.

Hecklers had been expected. Students caused a near-riot when the Dean of Canterbury addressed a left wing meeting here last year.

Music critic John Kraglund of the Globe and Mail praised the "ethereal tone quality" of violinist Leonid Kogan. "The concert proved always interesting and at times highly enjoyable," he said.

In addition to Kogan, a soprano, a tenor, a pianist and two ballet dancers performed.

The audience, composed mostly of Canadians of Slavic extraction, called back all the performers for bows after each appeared. Even two men who appeared on the stage to shift the position of a piano got a warm hand from the crowd.

NO DECORATIONS

The big stage was bare of flags or other decorations. At the end of the concert, the smiling Russian artists expressed thanks for their warm reception. Several seemed wooden on first appearing on the stage, but they soon lost any feeling of trepidation they might have had.

The artists performed with

Licensing of Agents Essential Real Estate Board Here Warned

Concern that the government may do away with the requirement that B.C. real estate agents be licensed was expressed Wednesday by A. H. Reed at a meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board.

Mr. Reed feared the government might abolish the present system and let anyone into the real estate field who could post a bond.

He urged the Victoria board to actively support the recently revived B.C. Real Estate Board's Association to present objections to any such proposal.

He said the Vancouver Real Estate Board, which formerly spoke for all B.C. agents, was no longer effective since it was divided into two camps.

Members of the Victoria board voted unanimously to support the provincial association, which holds its annual meeting in Vancouver next month.

CELEBRATE with JELL-O
A Treat to Look at!
PURE PLEASURE to Eat!

GRAPEFRUIT AND CHERRY MOULD

1 pkg. Cherry Jell-O (or any and flavor)
1 cup hot water
1/4 cup cold water
1/4 cup drained, canned grapefruit juice
1/2 cup drained, sweetened, pitted cherries

Dissolve Jell-O in HOT water. Add cold water and grapefruit juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in grapefruit and cherries. Turn into mould. Chill until attractive with Frosted Green Grapes.

Frosted Green Grapes: Brush grapes with egg white which has been beaten until slightly foamy. Sprinkle with granulated sugar over grapes. Store in refrigerator until dry.

JELL-O THE BEST IDEA ANY TIME!

You're sure to agree, when Jell-O is so swiftly to serve—and when all seven delicious "locked-in" flavors are so good to eat. And Jell-O combines so well with so many foods.

Take the Grapefruit and Cherry Mould above. Such a simple recipe... allowing lots of scope for your own variations.

Does your family ask for some favorite over and over again? Bananas, perhaps, or pineapple, peaches? All of these mix wonderfully with Cherry Jell-O. And when you use canned fruits, the fruit syrup can be part of the liquid used. Just be sure to use a total of 2 cups of liquid.

Whether you are adding one fruit, or a mixture of two or three together, you'll need at least 1 cup for a good looking mould. And remember, if you want the fruit evenly suspended in the mould, chill the Jell-O until slightly thickened, before mixing in the chosen fruits.

With or without fruits, you'll make wonderfully appetizing Jell-O dishes. Another delightful idea is to combine two or three flavors of cubed Jell-O. Chill Jell-O in shallow pans; cut into cubes, spoon layers of each flavor into sherbet glasses. A dab of whipped cream and a maraschino cherry makes it all the more exciting!

Jell-O is a registered trade-mark owned in Canada by General Foods, Limited.

Teachers Want Labor, Business, Industry On Curriculum Board

VANCOUVER (CP)—The provincial government's recent appointment of a director of curriculum is not completely satisfactory to delegates attending the B.C. Teachers' Federation convention here.

The federation wants the director to be assisted by a curriculum advisory board composed of representatives of business, industry, labor, professional groups, and most other classes.

The teachers also decided to ask the government for grants to re-establish driving courses in high schools.

Spokesmen for both Vancouver city police and members of the RCMP agreed with the teachers that high school driving lessons pay off in reduced accidents.

Teachers who enter public service should have their jobs and pensions protected. Tom Alsbury, principal of Fairview School of Commerce told the convention.

Mr. Alsbury, president of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, said three B.C. cabinet ministers, Wesley Black, Robert Sommers, and Frank Williston were members of the profession who entered public service. Arnold Webster, leader of the Opposition, is also a teacher.

Stating that he was not speaking for his organization, Mr. Alsbury said the teaching profession expected and wanted its members to take part in public affairs. He was advised by John Allester, retiring Federation president, that job and pension protection was a policy of the Federation in such circumstances.

A resolution submitted by the Trail District Teachers' Association was given unanimous approval. It called on the re-employment of education to ensure that leave of absence be granted teachers who wish to undertake further study. The resolution said some school boards did not follow this policy.

MAN WHO FOILED THUGS REAPS VENGEANCE IN N. VANCOUVER

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Thugs who wished to "get even" with David Bell are blamed for attacking him and leaving him on the ground unconscious Tuesday night. He now is at home nursing a bruised head after being treated at hospital.

Bell foiled a bid by two thugs to break into the North Vancouver Municipal Hall several days ago. Tuesday he was in a restaurant when he was slipped a note stating "We'll get you tonight."

He was attacked and slugged over the head the same night while en route to visit friends. His wallet, containing $60, was not touched.

Mysterious Windshield Pox Seen at Nelson, Salmon Arm

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—The epidemic of windshield pox which has spread rapidly through the northwest States and across Canada has apparently infected interior centres.

Reports of the pockmarked windshields showed up in Nelson, Wednesday, as an auto dealer said the mysterious marks appeared in a number of cars in his lots both on windshields and the rear windows.

In addition to reports from motorists, a police patrolman reported his spectacles and windshield of the car were marked. He cleaned off his glasses immediately after noticing the specks, but two tiny pits remained on one lens.

In Salmon Arm, meanwhile, at least a dozen motorists whose cars were parked in the city's business area during the last two days reported small holes dotting the glass in their windshields.

An examination of a windshield in Salmon Arm touched off other searches which uncovered the windshield pits.

Ghost of Industrialist Wines, Dines Old Friends

DETROIT (UP)—Guests at a "wake" for a wealthy Detroit industrialist who died last November trudged home early today loaded with articles from his $500,000 estate.

Carl F. Clarke, a 79-year-old bachelor who "loved beautiful women, good books, good liquor and good food" bequeathed 261 of his personal effects and a lavish party to 50 of his long-time friends.

With a ghost as host, the party was staged Wednesday night at Detroit's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel. The bill, which included $200 worth of liquor and cigars and $1,200 worth of food, was footed by the late Clarke.

Clarke stipulated that his friends should draw from an old derby for his personal effects, valued at about $5,000.

NO SLEEPERS IN SENATE GRAY TURGEON INSISTS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Senator J. Gray Turgeon (Lib., Cariboo) said here Wednesday he has been a member of Canada's Upper House since 1947, has missed no more than four meetings, and has yet to see one of his fellows asleep—"but you'll see it in the Commons."

Speaking to a group of Kitsilano Liberals, he said about 50 of the 80 Senators in the upper chamber have attended the last 10 sessions before the Easter recess.

He said the Senate works much more efficiently than the Commons and has no political speeches for the benefit of the press to interfere with its work.

Senator Turgeon said for example the work of the Senate's finance committee has been recognized as of great value to Canada by practically every newspaper in the Dominion.

TOUCH OF RADIATION? TRY JOHN BARLEYCORN

TOKYO (Reuters)—A Japanese doctor says three persons severely injured by atomic radiation in the wartime bombing of Hiroshima apparently were cured by a series of drinking bouts.

Dr. Michio Yamamoto, assistant professor of radiology at Okayama University in southern Japan, recently announced that his experiments have indicated alcohol helps cure radiation disease. He said today that after he made the announcement he was swamped with inquiries from all over Japan.

Three men had written to tell him that after being affected by radiation in Hiroshima they had become so despondent that they went on heavy drinking bouts. After a short time they found that the symptoms of loss of hair, loose teeth and blotchy skin had disappeared.

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Work was stopped Wednesday for the second day on a $41,000,000 addition to Chrysler Corporation of Canada plant when carpenters and ironworkers, members of American Federation of Labor unions, established picket lines.

The men objected to boiler-makers, also AFL men, installing conveyors at the plant. They said the job belonged under the jurisdiction of their union.

War Brides to Pay Way Of English Mother to Canada

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (Reuters)—A 61-year-old street cleaner's wife, Mrs. Rose Scott, sailed today in the liner Queen Mary to visit her daughter and grandson who are both stricken with polio in Canada.

The daughter, Mrs. Marie Cooper, 31-year-old British war bride, is in hospital at Brandon, Man. Mrs. Cooper's four-year-old son, Kenneth, is in a Winnipeg hospital.

Doctors said they believed her mother's presence would speed Mrs. Cooper's recovery. But Mrs. Scott could not afford the transatlantic journey.

The appeal for aid was answered by the United States and Canadian War Brides Association, which has paid her passage to New York.

TWIN DIAM

'Ohhh! My Poor Achin' Feet'

It's getting near the time when Victoria Shamrocks open the defense of the Intercity Lacrosse League championship they won last year and the players can feel the opening date creeping closer. No player is more aware of the diminishing time than scoring star Whitey Severson. Whitey, centre, has been working overtime in practice sessions, along with linemen Larry Booth, left, and Archie Browning.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Outside young men are playing on the lawn; inside the soft-shoe shuffle has been stepped up a beat.

Yes, spring is in the air. The loud "crack" of wood meeting horsehide heralds the start of another baseball season for the Tyees. (Who said "Brrr"?)

And after the sun has gone to rest, other athletes emerge, and fling balls with tremendous speed by means of mechanical arms. The boxing season is just around the corner of next week. It's that time again and the Rocks appear to be ready—more ready than the Tyees who could use a pitcher or two and a left-handed swinger.

But that will come 'tis hoped. But for the Irish, that fighting gang who went to the Mann Cup finals only to grind to halt on Peterborough's doorstep, they'll be on public view first.

Next Wednesday is the date and Vancouver Pilseners will be the first to feel what every Irish rooster hopes will be a left jab leading to a Mann Cup pay-off punch.

Needing something a little more than they've had in the past, the Rocks went out and got it. The first was George Johnston who rates in Moon Wooten's class. A goaler with a reputation, Johnston fills the spot that Jim Hethefington guarded last year.

Jim is still around in case Johnston falters and in the meantime is giving back to the game by helping with the youngsters as he did last year.

Nip Should Fill a Big Need

And now into town comes Nip O'Hearn, the controversial figure of the Mann Cup finals. A tremendous competitor and one of the stars of the Peterborough team, O'Hearn laid Al Gill low last year in one of those moments he has regretted ever since. But now he's a Shamrock and undoubtedly will be of great assistance to the club. His ability is unquestioned and by the simple reasoning that he agreed to come to Victoria after what had gone before, his qualities are commendable. He'll give the Irish something they've long needed—a fellow who can pack the ball, and a solid defender.

On the future books are Jack Biondi, Jack Sibald and Ross Lowe.

Biondi is a former junior star and should be fit as only this week he concluded hockey service with Toronto Marlboros. Sibald will be a late arrival because of scholastic commitments at McMaster University while Lowe is due to return within the week, following a vacation after his titanic chores with the Cougar Hockey Club.

The records of all three say they should stick. But, more so, their addition to the club, along with Johnston and O'Hearn, means that the Irish are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to give the city a national champion.

And Don't Forget the Rookies

There are a couple of rookies on the list of eligibles, too, who could pop down in front this season. And if you want a tip from the coach, Red McMillan, the fledglings to watch are Ed Longpre, Ed Kowalyk and Al Davies.

And we haven't even got around to Whitey Severson, Archie Browning, Larry Booth, Jackie Northup, Tom Druce and the rest of the pony outfit who have two successive league championships in the bag now and are already tightening the knot to clamp around a third title.

Yes, it could be a great year for the Irish. And they do deserve it.

Cleaners Capture Commercial Pin Title

MEET FARMERS TONIGHT

Lake, Smith Join Tyees

The Victoria Tyees were a happy ball club today. Not only did Eddy Lake, veteran major league shortstop, finally check into camp after a slight delay, but manager Don Pries declared a half-day holiday from the spring training grind.

Lake, who played for St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers during his 10 years in the big top, checked into the club's headquarters late Wednesday night and announced he was ready to go. He appeared to be in good physical shape and will be used in tonight's exhibition game against Farmer Construction.

Other than pitchers, Tyees now are waiting for only outfielder Dain Clay, former Coast League star, who should arrive tonight or Friday.

Also reporting Wednesday was Don Smith, a strapping, left-handed rookie pitcher from Fairbanks, Alaska, who comes to the club with a high rating in spite of his lack of professional experience.

Joe Joshua, hard-hitting infielder-outfielder, optioned to the Tyees by Seattle Rainiers, is expected to report before the week-end.

After increasing the tempo of his training program each day, Pries decided to give the club a short holiday today, in that there was no morning workout. The club limbered up late this afternoon in preparation for tonight's exhibition game.

ALL PITCHERS TO WORK
Pries again decided to go along with his same pitching plan, throwing in all his flingers for one or two innings.

He has shuffled his infield and outfield slightly to get a look at all the players.

Scrappy Ron Jackson will bat leadoff and play second base while Pries will be at first base and batting second. Third baseman Steve Mesner bats third with left fielder Art Seguso in the cleanup spot, followed by Lake, centre fielder Tommy Perez, right fielder Pepper Wesley and catcher Milt Martin.

Other players will be worked into the line-up during the game. Ed Ash, manager of Farmer Construction, the classy local amateur club, will likely send Paul Beck and Art Green to the mound against the Tyees. Game time is 6:30.

Black Hawks Buy Sullivan
CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League Wednesday announced the purchase of centre George Sullivan, record-breaking scorer of the American Hockey League, from Hershey Bears for $25,000.

Sullivan last season scored 119 points for Hershey, a Boston Bruin farm club. That broke the AHL record set by Carl Liscombe, then with Providence, in the 1947-48 season. Sullivan's 89 assists, while scoring 30 goals, also broke an AHL mark.

Eskimos Trounced
MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—Punching eight of 10 hits in two innings, the Modesto Reds of the California League ran over the Edmonton Eskimos of the Western International League, 7-1, Wednesday night in an exhibition contest.

Edmonton got only three hits off three Modesto hurlers.

Stamps Blank Canucks Take Lead in WHL Final

Second Straight Shutout For Goalie Bill Brennan

Calgary 2, Vancouver 0
VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Canucks may have healed their wounds and regained their health in their 14 days of rest between Western Hockey League play-offs, but they apparently lost their fine edge in doing so.

Whatever the reason, they were unable to flash any of the form Wednesday night that gave them the league championship as the travel and leg-weary Stampedeers tucked away a 2-0 win.

The game, played in Vancouver's forum before a full house of 5,000, gave Stampedeers a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven battle for the President's Cup. Second game will be played in Vancouver Friday.

Vancouver entered the finals by taking New Westminster 5-2 in a best-of-nine semi-final despite numerous injuries. Calgary beat Victoria and then Edmonton for the right to play Vancouver without suffering the loss of a man.

Jim McFadden and Sid Finney did the honors for Calgary, scoring both goals in the second period. Neither goalie was hard pressed although they made a number of good saves.

SECOND SHUTOUT
Lorne Worsley fended off 20 shots in the Vancouver nets while Bill Brennan steered aside 17 in earning his second straight playoff shutout. The agile Brennan also stopped Edmonton Flyers cold in the final game of their semi-final series.

Calgary were especially effective in countering opposition moves and killed off three dangerous penalties with persistent forechecking.

McFadden opened the scoring from a face-off inside the Calgary blue line to the right. He grabbed a loose puck, danced in on Worsley and pulled the trigger.

Finney's goal came on a beautiful play with Steve Black in the dying seconds of the same period.

Black scooted up centre, veered to the corner, and fed Finney a pass that was blasted past Worsley before the Vancouver netminder could move.

Turley Loser In No-Hit Bid

Baltimore's Bullet Bob Turley may still be nursing a home-run headache today, but he probably will end up glad that he didn't pitch that no-hitter.

Canada's Cricket Team Named for English Tour

TORONTO (CP)—Canada is sending an official cricket team to England this summer for the first time in history.

The Canadians will play 17 games during their stay from July 20 to Sept. 3. The schedule includes an unofficial test match against Pakistan, also touring the United Kingdom this summer, and games with four first-class English county teams.

Another match will pit them against a Marylebone Cricket Club eleven.

Other Canadian teams have played in England at intervals over the last 50 years, but they were privately sponsored and did not meet such tough opposition as that lined up for the 1954 tourists. The tour is being made on the invitation of the MCC, world cricket's governing body.

ROBINSON CAPTAIN
Thirteen of 15 players expected to make the trip have been selected. Basil Robinson, former Vancouver and Ottawa player and now in London, England, with the Canadian government's external affairs department, will captain the team. Player-manager will be L. J. H. Gunn of Toronto.

Other players chosen: Tom Brierley, Robert Quintrell, A. S. Bill Hendy, Peter Stead, Vancouver; Harry Bullen, Calgary; Leslie Wright, Alan Percival, Brian Christen, Toronto; Jim Cameron, London, Ont.; and Melville Ristone and J. L. Lucas, Montreal.

Robinson, the only Canadian to gain cricket Blue at Oxford University 1947-48, is an ideal man to lead the Canadians. The 35-year-old player is a forcing batsman, a useful off-spin bowler and a superb fielder.

The list of matches follows:
July 23, Hampstead, at Hampstead, Middlesex; July 24, Lord Cornwallis XI, Maidstone; Kent; July 25, Commonwealth XI, Slough, Bucks.; July 27, Sandhurst Wanderers, Sandhurst; Kent; July 28-29, Combined Services, Chatham; Kent; July 31-Aug. 3, MCC, Lord's, London; Aug. 1, Duke of Norfolk XI, Arundel, Sussex; Aug. 4-5, Essex, Clapton-on-Sea; Kent; Aug. 7-8, Warwickshire, Edgbaston, Birmingham; Aug. 9, Duke of Beaufort XI, Badminton, Gloucestershire; Cheshire, Runcorn; Aug. 10-11, North Wales XI, Colwyn Bay; Aug. 12-13, Pals, Pals, London; Aug. 14-15, Northumberland, Newcastle; Aug. 16-17, Durham, Sunderland; Aug. 18-19, Yorkshire, Scarborough; Sept. 1-2, Middlesex, Lord's.

NONE PICKED FOR SCOTTISH TEAM

Rangers Now Intact For Canadian Tour

GLASGOW (AP)—Scotland's soccer selectors Wednesday named 18 players from whom their World Cup team will be chosen—and out into the cold went many old-established internationals.

Not one member of Rangers was chosen meaning that the Glasgow team will be intact for its Canadian tour.

The selectors came up with a bold selection, including several newcomers to international soccer.

They backed up their decision to try out new blood by giving trials to several new men in the game against Norway at Hampden Park, Glasgow, May 5. All the 11 players in that team are included in the 18 World Cup "possibles."

Scotland's team to play Norway: Eddy Martin, Aberdeen; Willie Cunningham, Preston; Jack Aird, Burnley; Tom Docherty, Preston (Captain); Alan Davidson, Partick Thistle; Bobby Evans, Celtic; Bobby Johnston, Hibernian; George Hamilton, Aberdeen; Paddy Buckley, Aberdeen; Alan Brown, Blackpool; and Willie Ormond, Hibernian.

COX LEFT OFF
George Cox, who captained Scotland against England April 3, is dropped together with George Farm, Blackpool goalkeeper; Mike Houghton, Celtic fullback; Bill Brennan, Newcastle centre half; George Aitken, Sunderland half back, and Jackie Henderson, Portsmouth forward.

It's a clean sweep move by the Scottish selectors who obviously were disappointed after England's 4-2 victory in April.

Scotland will play Norway in Oslo May 19 and Finland in Helsinki May 25. The final 13 players for the World Cup party at Switzerland June 16-July 4 will be chosen after those matches.

Scotland and England represent the British Isles in the World Cup tournament. England won the British International tournament and is among the "seeded" World Cup teams.

Senators Lead Series

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa Senators Wednesday night took a 2-1 lead in the Quebec Hockey League finals, shading Quebec Aces 2-1 in the third game of their best-of-nine series.

Gerry Foley broke a 1-1 deadlock with less than three minutes remaining in the game. Leo Gravelle sniped the other Ottawa goal. Red Kelly picked up the single for Quebec.

The fourth game of the series shifts to Quebec tonight.

RANDY MUST FIGHT

LONDON (AP)—The British Boxing Board of Control Wednesday ordered Randy Turpin to defend his British middle-weight championship against Johnny Sullivan by Sept. 30.

SOME RANGERS NAMED WHO WILL PLAY HERE

WINNIPEG (CP)—Sam Davidson of Winnipeg, tour manager for the Football Association of Canada, announced today he has received word from Glasgow that Rangers will have a full team for their tour of Canada this summer.

Davidson said Rangers would include such name players as George Niven, George Young, Willie Woodburn, Sammy Cox, Willie Waddell, John Prentice, Eric Grierson, Willie Thornton, John Little, Ian McCol, Billy Simpson, John Hubbard and six other first team players.

Esks Again Threat In WIL Flag Race

BY DON FLEMING

EDMONTON, Alta. (CP)—Edmonton's Eskimos, resurrected to campaign in the Western International League after a baseball holiday of more than 30 years, created quite a stir in 1933 when they were contenders all the way.

When the New York Yankees chipped in to help John Ducey, Eske general manager, with the organization of the club they warned him not to expect much of a team starting from scratch.

Bobby Sturgeon, former National League shortstop with the Cubs and Braves, was hired as playing manager. No two members of the team he assembled for spring practice had every played together.

Yet they were beaten out by Salem in a photo finish in the first half of the season and finished right on the pace in the second half, running second to Salem for the entire season.

As for the Edmonton fans, they took the Esks to their hearts and led the league in attendance in spite of bad weather and an August plague of mosquitoes.

NEW FACILITIES
Club officials look for an even better showing at the gate this year. One big reason will be the completion of a new covered grandstand to replace one razed by fire four years ago. Renfrew Park, home of the Eskimos, now will seat more than 6,500, with space left for bleachers if needed.

With respect to manpower, the team appears more formidable than it was in 1933. Dick Morgan, a 300-hitter who is brother to Yankee pitcher Tom Morgan, is back for another year as catcher, with holdover Red Prentice and Yankee farmhand Tommy Self as understudy.

John Conant—a 24-game winner—Jack Widner, Larry Manner and Ray McNulty have been retained from last year's mound staff, although McNulty was a holdout at this writing.

Additions in the pitching department are Dale Hittle, Frank Cirimeli and Chuck Le.

Last night's program included "Suppressed Desire," by Parksville Players; "Fumed Oak," by Cowichan Little Theatre Guild; and "One Night at Nero's," by Nanaimo Theatre.

HONEST PERFORMANCE

Adjudicator Manning said the Parksville cast "played it honestly." Although he thought the first portion of "Suppressed Desire" was "perhaps slow, and lacked something in detail," he declared the play was "delightfully presented."

Barbara Ham played "Henrietta Brewster." John Lee was "Stephen Brewster," and Doris Knight was "Mabel." Director was Patricia Smith. John Templeman was stage manager.

"Fumed Oak," played by the Cowichan Little Theatre Guild, was well received by an enthusiastic audience. Mr. Manning said the play was a "wonderful 40 minutes of entertainment." Later he pointed out that "understanding of some of the significance was missing."

He singled out "Dickie" Bowron of Duncan for the best actress award. She played the part of "Doris," the lightweight, tyrannical wife, with verve and considerable realism. Cleve Stenmark was the "milktoast" husband who turned lion with convincing fervor. Norma Bowron did well as "Elsie," the overgrown adolent daughter. "Mrs. Racket," the "loaded" mother-in-law, played by Onagh Holland, was done most convincingly and kept the audience in a happy mood. Director was Ann Piers; stage manager, Cleve Stenmark.

VICTORIA CAST

Tonight's program: "The Invisible Worm," Victoria Theatre Guild, with Ida Clarkson, Hugh Curtis and Al Collins; directed by Joan Wintser.

TOFINO, B.C., April 22 (UPI)—A heavy toll of fur seals is being taken by oil slicks off the west coast of Vancouver Island. It was reported today.

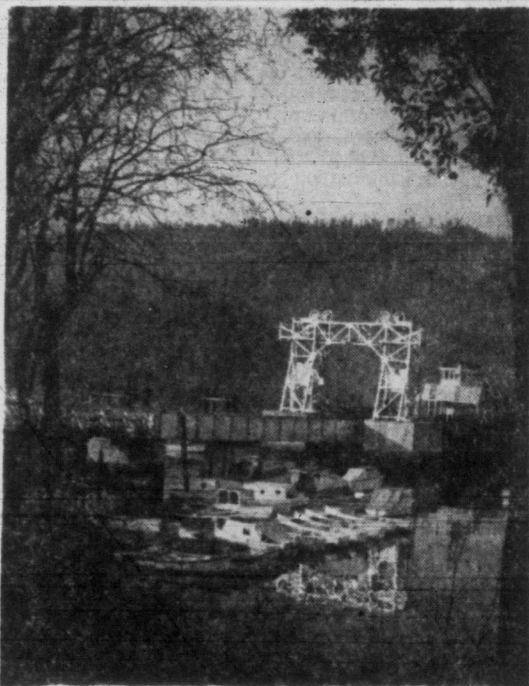

The seals, now on their northerly migration to the Pribiloff Islands breeding grounds, cannot free themselves of the oil after swimming through the slicks and drown. The oil slicks were presumed left by inbound freighters.

Many bodies of seals have been found on the beaches.

Bubbles Form In Windshield Of Island Car

'Mystery Pox' In Courtenay

COURTENAY—The mystery dust that is gobbling up windshields in the Pacific Northwest made its first appearance here Wednesday when bubbles formed in the windshield of a car driven by Tim Coleman, Island Co-operative Vegetable Association.

He was motoring from Comox to Courtenay when he noticed specks like two bubbles inside the glass. Eventually one assumed the size of a dime, and the other about that of a match-head.

He is quite positive the marks were not there before Wednesday morning.

During the day, while the car was parked in Courtenay, one of the holes deepened to the extent that the point of a pin could be pushed through the windshield.

Other Courtenay drivers noticed the phenomenon, but not to the same extent. One man reported finding nine "pockmarks" in his windshield while driving to Courtenay, Cumberland and Bevan.

Comox Creamery President Dies

COURTENAY—Thomas Robert Woods, well-known farmer of the Comox Valley, passed away suddenly Wednesday. Born in the Comox district 63 years ago, he was active in the community life and was president of Comox Creamery Association at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Gloria, and two sons, Robert and Calvin, at home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Moore Urges Support Of 80-20 Tax Policy

Alderman-MLA Advises Courtenay Council UBCM 'Standing Alone' on School Brief

COURTENAY—City council was advised by Ald. William C. Moore, M.L.A., to "get in line with some other group to make revisions" if it favors the Union of B.C. Municipalities' brief on 80-20 division of school costs.

The UBCM is standing alone of its policy, he said. The division, with the province paying the larger share, would save the city $16,000.

Ald. Moore stated that the government guaranteed to bring forth a new formula for the next spring session.

Mayor Lester Dobell suggested that the matter should be pressed further as changes will not be brought about in time for next year's municipal budget.

Mr. Moore said it is not likely there will be a fall session, but that the budget is usually passed in time for municipalities to set their estimates.

Council granted a $50 donation to the CNIB.

Ald. Sid Williams reported that some $300 had been spent on the city cemetery improvements at Sandwick, and that levelling and seeding will progress as funds will allow.

Courtenay Transfer Co. wrote the council asking permission to haul large quantities of steel from E. & N. Railway station to the Puntledge power dam site. Permission was granted subject to load limits.

Tender for copper pipe and fittings for the new water main on 11th Street was awarded to Andrew Sheret Ltd. of Victoria with a bid of $849.55, lowest of five submitted.

Ron Williams was delegated by the city to attend the Sanitary and Heating Engineers' Association convention at Harrison Hot Springs April 26 and 27.

Ottawa Won't Build Wharf At Vesuvius

DUNCAN — The provincial government will have to build a wharf at Vesuvius Bay if there is to be a Crofton-Salt Spring Island ferry service, Federal Public Works Minister Robert Winters has announced.

Mr. Winters acknowledged the federal government would be responsible for the wharf at the Crofton end of the proposed run, but said the Vesuvius wharf was regarded as "an extension of the highway" and, therefore, a provincial responsibility.

Mr. Winters expressed this view in a letter to the Duncan Liberal Association.

It had been generally considered here that the federal government would be responsible for wharves at both ends of the line.

B.C. Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi has indicated the question of ferry wharves will be one of the matters he will raise when in Ottawa next week.

DENIED TV, BERSERK GIRL, 11, ATTACKS FAMILY WITH SCISSORS

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—Police reported Wednesday that an 11-year-old school girl went berserk because she was forbidden by her grandmother from viewing Milton Berle's television program during an electrical storm. Two officers said the girl slapped her grandmother, stabbed her 10-year-old brother in the back with a pair of scissors, slashed her mother in the head with a butcher knife and then locked herself in the bathroom. None was seriously hurt.

Manitoba Soil Erosion Halted By Spring Snow

Seven Inches Fall Where Most Needed

WINNIPEG (BUP)—Erosion of more than 1,000,000 acres of Manitoba crop land was halted by the province's heavy snowfall Wednesday.

Exceptionally high winds and insufficient rain had produced dust-bowl conditions in southwest Manitoba. Dust storms there were described by agricultural minister, Ron Robertson, as "the worst in 35 years."

Wednesday, Robert called the snow, which blanketed the drifting topsoil, "a real blessing."

The unexpected snow fell most heavily where it was most needed. Falls of up to seven inches were reported in southern Manitoba. Winnipeg had 5.3 inches.

Seeding in all Manitoba districts had begun this week, but H. E. Wood, of the provincial department of agriculture, said the benefits to the wheat crop would far outweigh the delay in seeding operations. Seeding will be held up for about a week.

Skies cleared over the province today, and temperatures rose, but the weather office said more snow may be on the way.

City Man Jailed Six Months for $200 Ring Theft

A sentence of six months in jail was imposed Wednesday by County Court Judge J. B. Clearhue upon Jack R. Cloutier, Fort Street, who was found guilty of theft of a $200 diamond ring from a Sidney home last year.

Joseph McKenna, K.C., defense counsel asked the judge for a suspended sentence but the request was rejected.

Crown counsel J. A. Byers pointed out that between 1932 and 1943 the accused had been convicted four times of breaking and entering and theft.

Monocle And Spats Old Chap?

LONDON (Reuters) — No longer will men of the United States Air Force, formerly staid Britons by wearing loud shirts and sloppy jeans off duty.

Such "spectacular dress" has been banned in an order issued by Col. G. F. McGuire, deputy commander of the U.S. 3rd Air Force.

McGuire's edict forbids the men stationed in Britain from sporting jeans, loud shirts with open necks, T-shirts, zoot suits or gaily patterned leather jackets when they're on leave.

He said that from now on airmen must dress "in accordance with local customs."

SEAGULL FAKES INJURY TO GAIN FULL STOMACH

HARTLEPOOL, Eng. (AP) — A cunning seagull which fakes injury to win free meals, was hoaxed the police Wednesday for the fourth time in three weeks.

The gull limps down the street, apparently unable to fly. Soon a bird-lover picks him up and takes him to the police station. The police feed him while awaiting aid from the Royal Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

G. W. Spencer, an inspector for the society, recognized the winged beggar from a spot of green paint on its plumage.

"He knows by now that he can expect this meal at the police station," Spencer said. "He won't fly until he has stuffed himself full of their bread and butter."

Little Canuck Chewed By 'Big Brother'

Damaged wing of light Fleet Canuck airplane of Victoria Flying Club is shown after tangle with heavy Avenger torpedo-carrying navy aircraft at Patricia Bay Wednesday. High-seated pilot of the Avenger could not see little plane while overtaking it as they taxied on tarmac near flying club hangar at airport. Avenger's radar dome stove-in glass "coop" of Canuck cabin but occupants were not injured seriously. Members of flying club claim Avenger should have been zig-zagging so pilot could see if there was anything ahead. Inquiries have been ordered. (Times photo.)

Eight-ton Avenger of navy squadron visiting here from Dartmouth, N.S., came out of collision with 1,400-pound

Canuck with minor damage to propeller. It ground off section of light plane's wing, dragged it 76 feet.

Fliers Escape In Pat Bay Ground Crash

RCN Avenger Hits $4,000 Canuck

Death brushed two local fliers late Wednesday at Patricia Bay airport — but David Filby and David Turnbull walked away from a spectacular ground-level collision with an eight-ton RCN Avenger fighter-bomber that chewed four feet from the left wing of their 1,400-pound Fleet Canuck aircraft.

Turnbull, a 24-year-old student pilot, received head cuts and bruises. Filby was unhurt, and so was the pilot of the navy fighter-bomber, Sub-Lieut. A. F. "Tony" Cottingham, of Regina, Sask., and Dartmouth, N.S.

Turnbull resides at 50 Howe Street. Filby, Victoria Flying Club's chief instructor lives on Graham Avenue, Bazan Bay.

This afternoon Turnbull was scheduled to continue his flying lessons at Pat Bay. Sub-Lieut Cottingham also is back on flying duty.

According to Filby and eye-witnesses, the planes were taxiing south on the tarmac fronting the club's hangars when the collision occurred. The time was 4:30 p.m.

A. John Knowland, airport manager, said today the accident was the first at Pat Bay in the last 15 months.

PROBES ORDERED

Navy and Dept. of Transport inquiries will be conducted. "The Avenger caught up with us and after tearing into our plane, pushed it sideways 76 feet," Filby reported.

The Navy plane's propeller chewed into the Fleet Canuck's left wing, smashing it for about four feet from the tip.

A radar dome on the underside of the Avenger's right wing stove in the Plexiglas roof of the Canuck, narrowly missing the occupants' heads.

'ON TOP OF US'

"The Avenger was going much faster than us. I could hear it. I asked Dave Turnbull to see where it was," Filby said. "Dave looked up in the mirror that shows what is coming behind and yelled 'it's right on top of us!'"

Filby was at the dual controls and Turnbull was on the side where the Avenger struck.

"Before starting out I filed my flight papers and got taxiing clearance," Instructor Filby said.

Propeller of the Avenger was damaged. The navy plane has been grounded until the navy has completed its investigations into the crash.

Damage to the Canuck, valued at $3,700, will be "several hundred dollars," flying club officials estimate.

Short 'Wavers' Meet

Victoria Short Wave Club will hold a regular meeting on Friday at an undisclosed location. Members will rendezvous between 7:30 and 8 p.m. at the clubhouse, 2500 Foul Bay Road, and will there be given instructions as to the destination.

Frogman Finds Fishman's Body

Missing Two Days

The body of a 40-year-old Vancouver fisherman was taken from the waters of Victoria's inner harbor just before noon today by one of his fellow boatmen, who dove for him in a frogman suit.

Harvey Ryall, of the fish-boat Salar, had been missing since Tuesday when he had berthed his boat at Home Oil wharf.

He had asked permission to come alongside and paint. He laid out his equipment and had not been seen since.

Today, police said a neighboring fisherman who owned a frogman suit, used it to explore the depths in that vicinity. He found the body close to the point where the boat was moored.

Police did not identify the diver.

'BLANKED OUT'

A brother of the drowned man was expected to arrive here from Vancouver later today. He had told police earlier that Ryall had sustained a serious head operation two years ago and has "blanked out" several times since.

It is thought he may have had a similar attack while climbing a dockside ladder and had fallen into the harbor.

Dragging operations had been planned for today but were called off due to high winds which made harbor waters choppy in the search area.

It was feared that he may have fallen in when the tide was ebbing and the body carried to sea.

Meanwhile police made checks of district hospitals and had not given up the hope that the missing man may have wandered off in a daze.

Ryall has a wife and family in Vancouver.

Home Oil officials had been reported earlier to be worried about the condition of a ladder leading from the water to the dock but police who have since examined it declared it is in "sound" condition.

Horse Mishaps Hurt 3 Children

Horses have figured in accidents which sent three children to St. Joseph's Hospital this week.

Latest casualties were Barbara Pollock, 8, and Caroline Frances, 10, who were riding double on a Metehosin farm, Wednesday.

Barbara remained in hospital with a fractured arm, but Caroline was sent home after treatment for minor back injuries.

Tuesday, 13-year-old Sheila Forscutt of Glen Lake, was also treated at St. Joseph's after she was kicked in the mouth by a horse.

ASK THE TIMES

—A.T.L.

A—No. Thus, if a woman whose name is Mary Loder marries a man named George Nelson, she may not herself make her name Mary or M. Loder-Nelson. Section 4, subsection 3, of the B.C. Change of Name Act provides that a married woman "shall not make any change in her surname by way of alteration, substitution or abandonment." The only way in which the name she and her husband jointly hold could be changed would be for the husband to make legal application to the Vital Statistics branch. He might ask that his surname be Loder-Nelson, or Loder, or some other name, and if granted permission, it would be so registered.

Q—I wish to send to England for a copy of my birth certificate. What is the address?

—W.J.B.

A—The Registrar-General, General Register Office, Somerset House, The Strand, London. Fee for the short form of certificate is 4s. 6d. For the long form, 7s. 6d. If time is a consideration and you wish it airmailed send 3s. in addition.

Answers wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

Low Salaries Blamed For Clergy Shortage

Anglican Layman Says Church Must Offer More, Both Materially and Spiritually

Col. R. L. Mitchell, lay delegate to the 52nd session of the Synod of the Diocese of British Columbia, said that the number of men entering the ministry was keeping the number of men entering the ministry to a minimum.

"Both material and competitive opportunities offered by such professions as law, medicine and the like, tend to discourage men from entering the service of the church, where financially at least, men receive a mere pittance."

Supporting a motion put forward by Rev. William Hills that the Synod encourage members of both the clergy and laity "search out young men of such qualifications, by personal meditation, and present to them a life in the church," the Colonel said:

"We can not expect an easy time finding suitable young men for the church when we see members of the Provincial Legislature receiving $3,000 for six weeks' work, and at the same time, find clergymen receiving a total of only $3,500 for a year of long, hard toil."

"The idea is to make clear to engaged couples the need for a knowledge of the spiritual side of marriage as well as the physical," he said.

The Synod endorsed Rev. N. A. Love's request that each Diocese set up a group to discuss various social problems affecting the community and the church.

The question of remarriage of divorced couples in church services, mentioned Wednesday by Archbishop Harold Sexton in his charge to the Synod, was expected to be discussed later today.

Another motion, calling for a standing committee to handle public relations with the press and radio, was carried unanimously.

Two other notices of motion, one calling for pre-marital discussions between clergymen and parties interested in getting married, and the other asking for a change in the rulings concerning church furnishings, were scheduled to be discussed later.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Don't Let Average Weight Charts Fool You—Stay Slim

It is a rare woman who does not gain weight as the years pass. This is so true that average weight charts have become confused in our minds with ideal weight charts. The weight you should try to keep all of your life is the weight which was ideal for you at the age of 25.

By the time a man or woman is 25, he or she has usually reached complete physical maturity. From then on you should not grow in the wrong directions!

It is so easy to allow the first five pounds to turn into 10, the first 10 into 15 and from then on the pounds usually move onto us with the same speed with which birthdays whiz by from middle-age on. That is, unless we take care to avoid it.

At this time of year I always run my nine-day reducing diet to help you quickly lose that 10 pounds you may have acquired during the winter months or may have disliked for years.

Here are your menus for tomorrow. Stick to these meals and you will lose from five to 10 pounds in nine days' time.

Ramsay-McMillan Wedding Double-Ring Ceremony

Wedding vows were repeated in a double-ring ceremony, Saturday evening, between Phyllis McMillan and Robert David Ramsay, of the Patricia Bay Naval Station. St. Mark's Anglican Church was decorated with spring flowers for the service, performed by Canon R. Willis. As the register was being signed, Mrs. Charles Lee sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of C. H. McMillan, 971 Lodge Avenue, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Ramsay, Chilliwack, B.C.

The attractive bride, whose father gave her in marriage, chose a gown fashioned with Chantilly lace bodice and bouffant skirt of nylon tulle over satin. She wore a matching lace jacket. Her veil was shoulder-length and held by a tiara of orange blossoms which had been worn by her mother. She carried a bouquet of Calla lilies and red roses.

Miss Jill Ramsay, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She was gowned in frilled white net and lace over corded tulle with green sash and wreath of white flowers in her hair. She carried white and pink tulips. As bridesmaid for her sister, Miss Mary McMillan wore pink lace and net over tulle with lace frills on the skirt, lace jacket, and lace mitts. She had a wreath of pink flowers and bouquet of white tulips and blue iris.

Bud Thompson was best man, and ushers were Danny Fenian and Chester Mullin.

At the reception at McEwen's Rose Room, guests were welcomed by the bride's mother, gowned in dusty rose crepe and black hat corsage of tulle, roses, and the groom's mother, in blue and white crepe, blue accessories, and red rose corsage.

The bridal toast was proposed by F. Morris. White tulle sprinkled with daffodils circled the three-tier wedding cake.

After a honeymoon in Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay will live here. The bride traveled in a beige suit with red accessories and corsage of red carnations.

IMAGINATIVE SONGFEST CHEERED U N DELEGATE

Meistersingers Score Triumph

The ever-popular Meister-singers made their first local appearance following their triumph in the Vancouver Musical Festival, Wednesday night at Sir James Douglas School auditorium.

Under sponsorship of the Fairfield United Church Men's Club, they sang a program of ballads and popular numbers and were assisted by Ruth Champion as soprano soloist, and Betts and Her Buddies, the mixed quartet which met with its own personal success in Vancouver.

Repeatedly encored by the capacity audience, numerous extra numbers were added to the scheduled program, which was conducted with the easy informality characteristic of Meister-singer concerts.

Spirit and vitality mark the singing of the ensemble, and a vivid imagination is at work in the preparation of the various numbers. Dramatization to emphasize certain aspects of the songs heighten the entertainment value.

RECITAL SCHEDULED

Ruth Champion, next Wednesday, will present her own recital in First United Church, when the Meister-singers will assist her. Her soprano voice is lyric, clear and lovely and her songs for this occasion were well chosen.

One outstanding number last night was "Romany Life," sung with the chorus providing a background. Others were "Annie Laurie," "Romance" and some operatic selections. Accompanist throughout was Jean Bullenck.

Canadian May Direct Arms Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—David M. Johnson, chief of Canada's permanent delegation to the United Nations, was widely mentioned Wednesday as the choice for first chairman of the newly-created UN disarmament sub-committee.

Johnson is expected to be chosen Friday at the first private meeting of the sub-committee, made up of delegates of Canada, France, the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain. Canada comes first in the alphabetical order of the members and the chairmanship is expected to rotate in that order.

Britain was reported ready to invite the sub-committee to meet in London. The General Assembly, in a resolution calling for the sub-committee, said it could meet in the capitals of its members.

Apprentice Training for a Bright Future

Combine thorough trades training, schooling, sound discipline, with understanding of the spirit of youth and you have the elements of the Canadian Army's Soldier Apprentice Plan for young men of 16.

The happy enthusiasm of the young men now enrolled as Soldier Apprentices is perhaps the best indication of how successful this plan has been. The young men who graduate from this course may build good careers for themselves in the service of Canada. It is service which is vital to the continued well-being of this country.

The young men who are accepted for Soldier Apprentice training receive:

- thorough trades training in one of 16 trades.
- academic training — in such subjects as physics, chemistry, algebra, English.
- the general military training of the Canadian soldier.

Soldier Apprentices are eligible for all Army benefits, including 30 days annual leave. They receive half pay when 16 and on their 17th birthday they receive full pay.

To be eligible, the young man must have a minimum of Grade 8 education. There are added opportunities for those with higher qualifications. He must have attained his sixteenth but not his seventeenth birthday.

Courses begin in September but applications are now being received. Following interviews, the applicants may be accepted after June 1st and then sent home on leave until courses commence in the Fall.

To obtain an interesting booklet and full information on the Soldier Apprentice Plan, write, phone or visit the Army Information Recruiting Centre nearest your home.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) - You are all stirred up about worldly matters and need to be exact in your state-ments, reports, comments to officials. Obeying laws, regulations raises you in esteem of important persons.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) - This is your day to uti-lize all of that desire to get off to greener pastures by get-ting data, information con-cerning these outlets so you can obtain greatest degree of success.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) - Desire for added prop-erty, depth of understanding with attachment is fine, but you can be still a while to get right answer, since combining intuition and judgment pro-duces correct solutions now.

CANCER (June 22 to July 22) - Lots of apparently hap-pen conversation with in-teresting facts you can use in the future; keep your feet on ground, without feeling abused, to get best results this fine day.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21) - Tackling all kinds of work, connected with your everyday duties in food, apparel, decora-tions, furnishings, pets, gar-dens, supplies makes this hap-pier day if you keep steadily engaged and go off on no tan-gents.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) - This is an unusually good day for enhancing your personal charm in beauty treatments, manicures, hair-cuts or hairdos, etc. Then en-joy romance, sports, recrea-tion, amusements. Be happy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) - Making sure you have

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN FRIDAY... Friday's child is one of those very clever and ambitious children who will leave no stone unturned to get his or her own way. It is best that you early inculcate fine ideals by leaving lofty literature at your tot's bedside, or every so often taking to highly spiritual advisor so that the wonder-ful, alert quality in the horoscope will have a chance to absorb proven principles. Good for chart requiring down-to-earth occupations as an outlet. Give strong foundational education.

Four Votes

On Liquor

Plebiscite

The four questions to be submitted to Victoria voters in next Wednesday's liquor plebiscite will be listed on one piece of paper, but each question will be considered a separate ballot.

Returning Officer Gerald Cross explained today that for ease of handling the four questions had been printed on one long piece of white paper, with perforations between each of the four questions.

The paper will be folded when it is handed to the voter, who, in turn, will mark it and return it folded to be placed in the ballot box.

When the polls close and the boxes are opened, the papers will be separated along the perforated lines to form the four distinct ballots.

QUESTIONS

The first question will ask the voter if he favors establishment of public houses. The second will ask if he favors licensing dining-rooms to sell beer, ale, stout or wine with meals. The third will ask if he favors allowing dining lounges (cabarets and clubs). The fourth will ask if he favors establishment of cocktail bars.

The voter may vote "yes" to all; "no" to all; or "yes" to some and "no" to others.

Answers to each question will be tabulated separately. The law provides that in each case, 55 per cent or more "yes" votes will be required before that particular type of outlet may be allowed.

Under this arrangement, it is possible that Victoria will:

(a) Accept all four types of outlets;

(b) Reject all four types of outlets;

(c) Accept some and reject others.

COUNT CLEARED

A ruling by the attorney-general's department has cleared up certain agitation over the manner in which the 55 per cent requirement is to be computed.

Initially, it was announced the 55 per cent would be determined according to the total number of ballots cast. The Junior Chamber of Commerce and certain individuals objected to this procedure, however, on grounds that this would mean spoiled ballots would have the same effect as "no" votes.

New ruling of the attorney-general's department is that the 55 per cent requirement will be determined now by the total number of valid ballots cast.

RALLY TONIGHT

Tonight is the night for the public forum on the liquor question. Featuring speakers from both sides.

The forum will begin at 8 in the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion Hall on Arena Way. The auditorium seats 500 and a large crowd is anticipated.

Two lawyers, A. deB. McPhillips and J. Ronald Grant, of the Common-Sense Liquor Law Committee, will advance arguments for voting "yes." Dr. R.
Matko and Elmer McEwen, a restaurant proprietor, unopportuned, will list reasons for voting "no."

Each speaker will have 16 minutes. The side to lead off will be decided by tossing a coin. Each side will determine in which order its speakers take part.

Written questions from the audience will be allowed afterward.

College of Physicians

Planned for Canada

QUEBEC (CP)—A Canadian college of physicians will be created officially next June. Dr.
Renald Lemieux, president of the Quebec provincial division of the Canadian Medical Association, announced on Wednesday night.

Addressing the annual banquet of Laval University medical students, Dr. Lemieux said the college will be created during a meeting of the CMA in Victoria.

The new body would group those who have made notable achievements in the Canadian medical profession.

McGugan said "implementation of the new act is still in a state of flux. It has not worked itself down yet."

Restaurants and other outlets in Vancouver which have been granted liquor licenses are reported ready to start serving drinks by the glass almost immediately.

Two cabarets, the Cave Supper Club, and the Palomar, were granted dining-lounge licenses. Contrary to earlier reports, they will be allowed to remain open from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The Vancouver Terminal Station, serving all CPR trains running in and out of Vancouver, has been granted a dining-room license.

Hotel Vancouver will have a cocktail bar and dining lounge on the main floor, and a dining lounge on the Penthouse. Hotel Georgia, Hotel Devonshire, and the Sylvia Hotel will have cocktail bars. The Georgia will also have a dining-room and dining lounge license.

Only one outlet in the licensing area of New Westminster was granted a license today.
The Russell Hotel will have a dining lounge and a lounge license.

Most of the hotel licenses have not been issued as yet.
They have been approved, and will be issued when alterations proposed by the owners have been completed.

Twenty Vancouver restaurants awarded dining-room licenses are expected to be only the start. Dozens more are predicted, depending on "how it turns out."

Hours for liquor sale in the restaurants will be from 10.30 a.m. to 11.30 p.m. The same rules will apply to cocktail bars in hotels.

Female waitresses will be allowed to handle drinks in all of the new restaurant outlets.
They are only barred from working in cocktail bars and public houses.

All outlets will be closed on Sundays.

The large increase in wine drinking in the province expected to result from the opening of dining-room outlets has brought the issue of imported wines into focus again.

Col. McGugan refused comment on the possibility that California wines would be handled by the Liquor Control Board in the near future.

The provincial government's 5 per cent sales tax will be levied on all drinks sold by the glass in the new liquor outlets.

Boats and trains opening cocktail bars and serving wines and beer with meals will not be allowed to operate their outlets unless they are in transit.

Liquor will not be sold on trains while they are in the station; or on boats which are sta-

Small Impurities

Held Responsible

For 'Glass Pox'

NANAIMO — "Glass pox" might possibly be traced to small impurities in a certain batch of glass, according to J.
W. Southern, former employee of a large plumbing manufacturing concern.

He reported that while working with enamel in a California plant, he found that a small grain of sand adhering to a cast iron base, and containing a trace of moisture, might "explode" long after manufacture, thus causing pitting or chipping.

REMODELLING CARRIER

WILL COST $40 MILLION

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—The USS Franklin D.
Roosevelt, 45,000-ton aircraft carrier from which the first jet aircraft were launched in United States Navy history, will be decommissioned, Wednesday, for remodelling to handle faster and heavier jet planes. The big carrier will be laid up two years at the Puget Sound naval shipyard for a modernization job costing $40,000,000, 40 per cent of the original cost of the vessel.

MURDER PLOT FAILS

eral information on the activities of the MVD—the corps of secret police within the Soviet interior ministry.

Macdermott said the evidence has been the subject of worldwide investigations by U.S. security officers.

Macdermott said that before Khoklov left home he agreed with his wife on his desertion and "look steps" to prevent reprisals against her. Macdermott then issued a 20-page document with the full details of the Khoklov case.

WIFE THREATENED

Khoklov told the press conference he had surrendered because his wife threatened to quit him if he became an assassin.

"It was impossible to stay in the East any longer," he said.
"I have served 13 years in one of the most secret departments of Soviet intelligence."

Correspondents were given a 25-page document describing the assassination plot. This document said:

The three were taken to Moscow for special training. They were shown photographs of Okolovitch, described as "a Russian very dangerous to the Soviet Union and to East Germany."

Ray H. Jenkins, the sub-committee's special counsel, objected.

Senator John McClellan (Dem. Ark.) said he would object if McCarthy was going to testify instead of just ask questions.

"Don't object in the middle of my questioning," McCarthy snapped.

McClellan replied that he would not object if McCarthy were under oath, but he said McCarthy ought not to testify unless he were under oath.

It was on this wrangling note that the senate subcommittee concluded the first session of its inquiry.

Reber was asked to come back for more testimony in the afternoon.

During the period from July 17 to July 31 of last year, Reber said, he received an average of about two telephone calls a day from Cohn, chief counsel to McCarthy, regarding Schine.
Reber said there also were "two or three calls" from Mc-Carthy, and that earlier the senator had called him to his office to talk about a commission for Schine.

At that time, Reber was the army's liaison officer with Congress. He now is commanding general of U.S. army forces in the western European area.

Reber was the lead-off witness as long-heralded hearings began on the stormy row between McCarthy and top army department officials.

The dispute turns on the contention McCarthy and his assistants sought by "improper means" to win preferred treatment for Schine and suggested their own investigation of the army might be eased if this was done.

CHARGES INTERFERENCE

Denying this, McCarthy asserts that the charges were designed to interfere with (A) his investigation of communism in the army, and (B) an investigation of what he termed "misconduct and possibly law violations" by H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense.

At the outset of the televised hearings, before a packed Senate caucus room, McCarthy demanded that the army officials critical of him present their cases as individuals, not as
"the department of the army."

The "bill of particulars" against McCarthy was signed not by individuals, but by an attorney for the army department.

Acting chairman Karl Mundt (Rep.-S.D.) ruled that since the formal complaint against Mc-Carthy was not then before the committee, the point of order could not be raised at that time.
He said McCarthy could bring it up again later if he chose.

Appearing in uniform, Reber testified under protest from McCarthy that it was "hearsay" evidence.

LACKED QUALIFICATIONS

Reber said the army transportation corps, the provost marshal and the office of the chief of psychological warfare all found that Schine lacked qualifications for a commission in any of the three units.

Reber related that after Schine was turned down for an army commission Cohn asked Reber to see whether a commission could be obtained in the air force or the navy.

Reber said the air force was not then commissioning any men directly from civilian life while the navy's requirements were substantially the same as the army's.

Some 200 delegates from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association convention in Jasper, June 7 to 9, will arrive in Victoria June 11 on a post-convention tour.

They will spend a day in Vancouver before coming here for a two-day visit.

At the CMA convention in Jasper, John Jay Hopkins, chairman of the board of Canadian and president of General Dynamics Corporation, Washington, manufacturers of the first atomic-powered submarine, will head a discussion of the use of atomic energy for a new industrial era.

General theme of the convention will be "Canadian Industry on the March."

Board Abandons Kingston School

Kingston Street school may be turned back to the city. The suggestion came Tuesday night from school board chairman Walter Jeune after the board had viewed with disfavor a suggestion from night school director John White that the building be used as a permanent quarters for night school classes in painting, drawing, sculpting and ceramics.

The old school is presently unoccupied.

"If we have no further use for it, let's get it back on the tax roll," Mr. Jeune suggested.

Auto Offender Loses Argument in Court

George Lloyd Smith, 934 Stafford, lost an argument with a traffic officer when the policeman testified in court that a mechanical device on his proof car speedometer recorded Smith's speed March 17 on Government Street, at over 40. Smith was found guilty and fined $15 for speeding by Magistrate H. C. Hall but was still protesting his speed was under 30 after the sentence was passed. The magistrate had to cut him off with, "You've had your say."

Aggassiz Toll Bridge Tenders Called for May 31

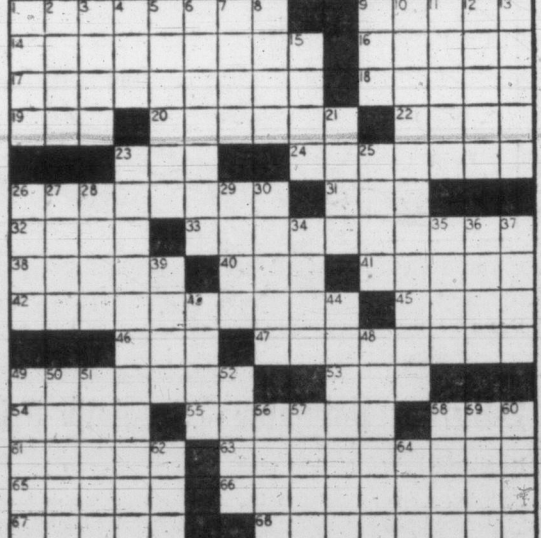

Tenders will be called before May 31 for British Columbia's first government-owned toll bridge, at Agassiz in the Fraser Valley, Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan announced Wednesday.

The giant span will provide a cement and steel link across the Fraser between Rosedale, near Chilliwack, on the south bank, and Agassiz on the north shore.

Tenders will be returnable 60 days after being called and construction could start immediately after high water in the fall.

The bridge will be the first constructed under B.C.'s new toll bridge and highway authority, which has borrowing powers of $20,000,000.

Seed costs account for about 6 per cent of the total cost of producing corn.

Forest Products Leaders Stress Necessity of Federal Co-Operation

OTTAWA (BUP)—Leaders of Canada's vast forest products industry today urged greater federal co-operation in forestry conservation programs to keep the woods producing raw material for world trade.

Speakers at the opening session of the National Conservation Conference stressed the need for greater co-operation at all levels in developing a national forest policy.

Representatives from some 75 organizations began a two-day discussion of the problems connected with conserving Canada's natural resources.

Vernon E. Johnson, president of the Canadian International Paper Company of Montreal, urged the establishment of a federal department of forests.

"The psychological importance of such a development would be very great," Johnson said.

TCA PILOTS PROTEST RCN FLYING AT PAT BAY

TCA pilots flying into Patricia Bay airport have protested navy torpedo aircraft test flying in the Brentwood area, it was learned today. It is understood they have made representation to the company's chief pilot at Montreal, pointing out the Navy's torpedo test range off the west end of the main runway of the airport could be hazardous. The Navy, for several months, has been testing new types of torpedoes launched from low-flying aircraft. The commercial pilots feel the tests should be conducted in a sea area far apart from the airport. They protest the fact the Navy pilots are flying low near the western approach to the main runway, concentrating on their "bomb runs" while other aircraft might be in the vicinity.

Navy Flier Scoffs Claim Avengers Buzzed Vancouver

Complaints from Vancouver that a navy squadron of Avengers torpedo-carrier aircraft flew "dangerously low" over the city Wednesday were denied today by the commander of the flight. Lieut.-Cmdr. Michael Page, who brought the squadron here from Dartmouth, N.S., last week, for exercises with ships of the Pacific Command, said the altitude of the flight was perfectly safe at all times. The squadron, which flew over Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Mission in a Queen's Birthday "fly past," flew today over up-Island towns and Powell River on the mainland in similar shows of tight formation flying. It is the first time a unit of the Fleet Air Arm has been seen on this coast.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Page said the squadron flew at regulation 2,000 feet altitude during most of the Wednesday shows. NEVER DANGEROUS At one time over Vancouver the 10 single-engine heavy-duty torpedo carriers swooped to 1,500 feet because of clouds, but there was no danger, the squadron CO said.

He said that in the event of engine trouble on any one of the aircraft, "ditching" or landing could have been carried out and the people of Vancouver had nothing to worry about. According to reports from the mainland, Sea Island airport control was "deluged" with calls from residents who thought the aircraft were too close to their roof-tops.

JUDGE FINES PROVINCE $2,500 VANCOUVER (UP)—Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne today fined the Vancouver Daily Province $2,500 and columnist Eric Nicol $250 in a contempt of court action arising out of a story the newspaper carried on the conviction and sentencing of murderer William Gash.

Justice Clyne's decision was handed down today after he had reserved judgment following the original hearing April 2.

The story, for which the newspaper later published a front page apology, depicted capital punishment and graphically described what it said was the agony of hanging.

Body Identified VANCOUVER (CP)—Second body recovered from the Vancouver tug Chelan, which sank last week off the Alaskan panhandle with 14 men aboard, has been identified as that of Brock Haines of Vancouver, chief engineer aboard the craft.

B.C. TEACHERS WANT OLD REPORTS BACK

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia teachers' convention here have recommended a return to the old-fashioned letter system of marking report cards. Elementary school report cards in use now were described as very often "unintelligible" by D. L. Pritchard, chairman of the report committee. The current system in the lower grades marks a student according to his own ability rather than his position in the class. The meeting decided that grades 1 to 6 should have a report card system graded from A to E, and grades 7 to 12 should use a seven-point alphabetical scale.

Hatchetmen Tell Red Murder Plot

Conscience-Stricken Secret Police Surrender to Americans in Berlin

BONN (Reuters)—A Soviet secret police captain with orders to assassinate an anti-Communist Russian in West Germany with poison bullets has surrendered to the West, American authorities announced today.

He gave American security officers details about changes in the Soviet secret police MVD and Russia after the death of Stalin and the execution last year of Lavrenti Beria, former minister of the interior. His evidence also included details of the assassination of Leon Trotsky in Mexico. The U.S. high commission produced MVD Capt. Nikolai E. Khoklov at an elaborate press conference. Two East Germans, Hans Kudowicz and Kurt Weber, who were also assigned to the assassination mission, were with him.

Khoklov said the MVD team sent to Frankfurt to assassinate an anti-Communist Russian named Okolovitch had specially silenced and electrically fired pistols which discharged leaden bullets containing deadly poison. The whole weapon was disguised as a cigarette case. When the case, which is covered in leather, is opened it shows the ends of 23 cigarettes. Under a false bottom is the firing apparatus and a 1.5-volt battery.

POISON BULLETS The bullets, shaped in dum-dum fashion to flatten out on impact, contain a mixture of potassium cyanide and soluble rubber. Each dose of cyanide is more than 100 times strong enough to kill. The weapons, of which two were issued to the team, were found to be accurate up to 25 feet and could penetrate a one-inch teakwood board at that range. They could be fired noiselessly from the pocket without making smell or smoke. The weapons were smuggled into Germany from Austria in a German automobile battery, wrapped in watertight plastic, U.S. officers said. A U.S. high commission official, J. Macdermott, told the press conference that after surrendering the three men gave a "comprehensive" report on their activities as well as general information on the MVD. (Continued on Page 22)

RUSSIA ASKED TO SPELL OUT NATO BID

PARIS (UP)—The Big Three foreign ministers today agreed to ask Russia to spell out the Soviet offer to join the anti-Communist North Atlantic Treaty Organization would work.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain, and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault approved a new note to the Kremlin which will invite Russia to spell out in detail its surprise bid to join NATO. (See story Page 2.)

McCarthy Pressed for Commission For Schine, General Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj.-Gen. Miles Reber testified today that in 10 years as army liaison officer with Congress he recalled no case where he was "put under greater pressure" than he was in demands for an officer's commission for G. David Schine, aide to Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep., Wis.). Reber told senators investigating the McCarthy-army row that "unusual" methods were used to seek a commission for Schine. "It wasn't normal action," Reber said in describing what he called appeals by McCarthy and Roy Cohn, chief counsel of McCarthy's Senate investigating sub-committee. But Reber said he was never "intimidated" by the senator. Schine, with the draft pressing upon him, applied for an army commission last July 15. A wealthy New Yorker, Schine was then an unpaid consultant to McCarthy's sub-committee. Turned down for a commission, Schine eventually was drafted and is now an army private.

34 Permits For Vancouver; Boats Get Bars

Cocktail Lounges for CPR Ferries, City Applications Still Secret

The first licenses to be granted under British Columbia's new Liquor Act were announced today by Liquor Commissioner Col. Donald McGugan.

Vancouver hotels, cafes and cabarets were issued a total of 34 licenses, for cocktail lounges, dining lounges and dining room outlets.

CPR ferries plying between Vancouver Island and the mainland will open bars, and serve wines and beer with meals early in May.

CPR officials say outlets will be in operation on every boat, with the exception of the Princess of Alberni. Trans-continental and some local trains operating out of Vancouver will also open bars, or serve drinks with meals, "as early in May as possible."

In announcing the licenses, Col. McGugan said he still could not disclose the number or type of license applications made by Victoria cafes and hotels. City voters will go to the polls next Wednesday to vote on a plebiscite to determine whether present liquor regulations will stay in effect, or the new liquor act implemented.

Canadian National Railways trains also will open bars on trans-continental lines, but regulations concerning hours of sale will cut out drinks on trains leaving late at night. 68 LICENSES The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National were granted a total of 68 licenses for operating lounges, or cocktail bars, and dining-lounges, on boats and trains. All licenses issued take effect immediately, and outlets will open as soon as cafe and restaurant owners can install required facilities. Granting of the licenses came almost eight months after B.C.'s new liquor act was approved by the Legislature, and nearly two years after residents of the province approved the sale of liquor by the glass in the 1952 plebiscite.

The plebiscite showed that B.C. residents favored drinks by the glass by a two-to-one margin. Liquor Commissioner McGugan said the licenses issued today do not represent the total applications. He said "there are still many applications in the Vancouver licensing area that have not been processed."

The establishments which have been granted licenses reflect the board's policy of not awarding restaurants licenses to sell hard liquor. They are restricted to selling beer and wines. However, Col. McGugan said the licenses issued today do not represent the total applications. He said "there are still many applications in the Vancouver licensing area that have not been processed."

U.S. Airlift Planes Must By-Pass India

Nehru Refuses Use Of Short-Cut Route

NEW DELHI, India (UP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today forbade U.S. airlift planes from flying over India with French commandos destined for battle at Dien Bien Phu. The U.S. Air Force called a special meeting at Wiesbaden, Germany, where it was announced today that the 8,500-mile Paris-to-India-China airlift had started to discuss Nehru's ban. An official spokesman said the planes would not land or fly over Indian territory.

Audrey (Nine-Day Wonder?) Johnson

One thing, I'm glad I had my Easter Sunday dinner before it happened. Come to think of it, maybe that's why it happened!

To tell you the truth, I don't really mind going along with this experiment in the least—what woman wouldn't subject her appetite to nine days' discipline if she thought her trim figure waited at the end of it like the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow? You see, I had to weigh in at the start—and I stepped off the scales with a sudden wild enthusiasm for the whole idea! No, I'm not going to tell the astronomer those scales registered. You'll have to wait till the end when all the pounds have magically melted away—I hope!

In the meantime, girls, I've just looked at tomorrow's menu. Ummmm! Not bad! Only thing is, I wish I could begin on them now—right this minute. Tomorrow's a lot of empty hours away. Wonder if Josephine Lowman would approve of me borrowing one of the tomorrow's meals and tacking scales with a sudden wild en-

B.C. Farmer Dares Fire, Saves Babies

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP)—A courageous dairy farmer raced through flames to save the lives of his four children today when his home was destroyed by fire near here.

Mr. A. Geddes threw his 14-month-old son bodily through the front door into the arms of his wife, smashed a window so the other children could crawl to safety and then telephoned an alarm while the flames swirled around him.

New Twist As Car Window Explodes

VANCOUVER (CP)—The window marking mystery took a new turn here today.

William Lees was sitting in his car when the back window suddenly "exploded." It shattered into thousands of particles.

"For no apparent reason," said Lees.

The car's windshield showed no damage.

Cambodia Asks Aid Against Reds

PARIS (AP)—Cambodia has asked Britain, the United States, Thailand and Japan for aid in fighting invading Viet Minh battalions, the French press agency said today.

A dispatch from Phnom Penh, the capital, said the little kingdom, one of the three associate states of Indo-China, sent off cables asking the four nations for help in providing the means necessary for the continuation of Cambodian resistance.

Army Secretary in McCarthy Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens testified today he was subjected to "persistent, tireless effort" by Senator Joseph McCarthy and his aides to get special military treatment for G. David Schine.

Stevens took the stand in the McCarthy-Army hearings in mid-afternoon.

B.C. Govt. Ultimatum Issued to Celgar

Celgar Development Co. has been ordered by B.C. government to complete within six months the working plans for its $55,000,000 pulp and lumber project at Castlegar, in B.C.'s interior. Alternative is canceling of Celgar's forest management license rights in Arrow Lake and Columbia River forests.

Celgar's proposed development has been described as the largest integrated pulp and lumber operation in B.C.

The firm is a subsidiary of Canadian Chemical & Cellulose Co., which has a multi-million dollar plant near Prince Rupert.

Forest Minister R. E. Somers today told Celgar the six-month extension is conditional upon firm's assurance construction and completion will be accomplished "within reasonable time limit."

Somers' ultimatum also warns Celgar that "very large areas of forest resources cannot be held in reserve for the benefit of any individual or company for any long indefinite period."

Student Pilot Dies

CLARESHOLM, Alta. (CP)—RCAF student pilot D. F. Boswell, 19, of Coburg, Ont., was killed Wednesday night in the crash of a Harvard training plane about a mile west of RCAF station Clareholm in southwestern Alberta.

TCA PILOTS PROTEST
RCN FLYING AT PAT BAY

TCA pilots flying into Patricia Bay airport have protested navy torpedo aircraft test flying in the Brentwood area, it was learned today.

It is understood they have made representation to the company's chief pilot at Montreal, pointing out the Navy's torpedo test range off the west end of the main runway of the airport could be hazardous.

The Navy, for several months, has been testing new types of torpedoes launched from low-flying aircraft.

The commercial pilots feel the tests should be conducted in a sea area far apart from the airport.

They protest the fact the Navy pilots are flying low near the western approach to the main runway, concentrating on their "bomb runs" while other aircraft might be in the vicinity.

Conscience-Stricken Secret Police
Surrender to Americans in Berlin

BONN (Reuters)—A Soviet secret police captain with orders to assassinate an anti-Communist Russian in West Germany with poison bullets has surrendered to the West, American authorities announced today.

He gave American security officers details about changes in the Soviet secret police MVD and Russia after the death of Stalin and the execution last year of Lavrenti Beria, former minister of the interior. His evidence also included details of the assassination of Leon Trotsky in Mexico.

The U.S. high commission produced MVD Capt. Nikolai E. Khoklov at an elaborate press conference. Two East Germans, Hans Kadowicz and Kurt Weber, who were also assigned to the assassination mission, were with him.

Khoklov said the MVD team sent to Frankfurt to assassinate anti-Communist Russian named Okolovitch had specially skilled and electrically fired pistols which discharged leaden bullets containing deadly poison. The whole weapon was disguised as a cigarette case.

POISON BULLETS

The bullets, shaped in dum-dum fashion to flatten out on impact, contain a mixture of potassium cyanide and soluble rubber. Each dose of cyanide is more than 100 times strong enough to kill.

The weapons, of which two were issued to the team, were found to be accurate up to 25 feet and could penetrate a one-inch teakwood board at that range. They could be fired noiselessly from the pocket without making smoke.

The weapons were smuggled into Germany from Austria in a German automobile battery, wrapped in watertight plastic, U.S. officers said.

A U.S. high commission official, J. Macdermott, told the press conference that after surrendering the three men gave a "comprehensive" report on their activities as well as general information.

Navy Flier Scoffs Claim
Avengers Buzzed Vancouver

Complaints from Vancouver that a navy squadron of Avengers torpedo-carrier aircraft flew "dangerously low" over the city

Wednesday were denied today by the commander of the flight. Lieut. Cmdr. Michael Page, who brought the squadron here from Dartmouth, N.S., last week, for exercises with ships of the Pacific Command, said the altitude of the flight was perfectly safe at all times.

The squadron, which flew over Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Mission in a Queen's Birthday "fly past," flew today over up-Island towns and Powell River on the mainland in similar shows of tight formation flying.

It is the first time a unit of the Fleet Air Arm has been seen on this coast.

Lieut. Cmdr. Page said the squadron flew at regulation 2,000 feet altitude during most of the Wednesday shows.

At one time over Vancouver the 10 single-engine heavy-duty torpedo carriers swooped to 1,500 feet because of clouds, but there was no danger, the squadron CO said.

He said that in the event of engine trouble on any one of the aircraft, "ditching" or landing could have been carried out and the people of Vancouver had nothing to worry about.

34 Licenses Issued
For Vancouver Area

The first licenses to be granted under British Columbia's new Liquor Act were announced today by Liquor Commissioner Col. Donald McGugan.

Vancouver hotels, cafes and cabarets were issued a total of 34 licenses, for cocktail lounges, dining lounges and dining room outlets.

CPR ferries plying between Vancouver Island and the mainland will open bars, and serve wines and beer with meals early in May.

The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National were granted total of 68 licenses for operating lounges, or cocktail bars, and dining-lounges, on boats and trains.

All licenses issued take effect immediately, and outlets will open as soon as cafe and restaurant owners can install required facilities.

CPR officials say outlets will be in operation on every boat, with the exception of the Princess of Alberni. Transcontinental and some local trains operating out of Vancouver will also open bars, or serve drinks with meals, "as early in May as possible."

In announcing the licenses, Col. McGugan said he still could not disclose the number or type of license applications made by Victoria cafes and hotels.

City voters will go to the polls next Wednesday to vote on a plebiscite to determine whether present liquor regulations will stay in effect, or the new liquor act implemented.

Canadian National Railways trains also will open bars on transcontinental lines, but regulations concerning hours of sale will eliminate drinks on trains leaving late at night.

Granting of the licenses came almost eight months after B.C.'s new liquor act was approved by the Legislature, and nearly two years after residents of the province approved the sale of liquor by the glass in the 1952 plebiscite.

The plebiscite showed that B.C. residents favored drinks-by-the-glass by a two-to-one margin.

Liquor Commissioner McGugan said the licenses issued today do not represent the total applications. He said "there are still many applications in the Vancouver licensing area that have not been processed."

The establishments which have been granted licenses reflect the board's policy of not awarding restaurants licenses to sell hard liquor.

U.S. Airlift Planes Must
By-Pass India

Nehru Refuses Use
Of Short-Cut Route

NEW DELHI, India (UP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today forbade U.S. airlift planes from flying over India with French commandos destined for battle at Dien Bien Phu.

The U.S. Air Force called a special meeting at Wiesbaden, Germany, where it was announced today that the 850th Paris-to-Indo-China airlift had started, to discuss Nehru's ban.

French pilots, adopting American rain-making measures, seeded dry ice today in heavy clouds over Communist supply routes in the Dien Bien Phu area, French military sources reported.

The desperate tactic was aimed at turning into mud the roads that lead from the border of Red China to Communist Indo-Chinese forces encircling the fortress.

McCarthy Pressed for Commission
For Schine, General Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Miles Reber testified today that in 10 years as army liaison officer with Congress he recalled no case where he was "put under greater pressure" than he was in demands for an officer's commission for G. David Schine.

Reber told senators investigating the McCarthy-army row that "unusual" methods were used to seek a commission for Schine.

Reber said in describing what he called appeals by
